Lesson One 1

First (1st) Lesson.

(PART. I)

A BUSINESS TRIP

My name is Tom Kelly. I'm 31 years old. I'm an engineer. I work in World Systems Corporation. I'm traveling to Caracas for the opening of the new branch office. Sitting beside me is Mr. Clark Stevens, The President of the Company.

My wife Betty and our children Ken and Sue are in New York. They will come to Venezuela in June, when the kids finish school.

My friends Fred Murray and Alan James are working in Caracas. They made all the arrangements for the opening. It was very hard work, but fortunately it is now finished. Everything is ready for tomorrow. It will be a very important event. There will be a lunch after the ceremony. We invited a lot of people. We expect to see old friends, suppliers and customers.

The flight is coming to an end. We're going to land in Simón Bolívar International Airport, Maiquetía. It's 6:30 p.m. My assistant is waiting for us. He will take us to the hotel in Caracas.

Answer:

1) What's the engineer's name?

_____

2) How old is he?

_____

3) Where does he work?

_____

4) What's his wife's name?

_____

5) How many children do they have?

_____

6) Who is Mr. Clark Stevens?

_____

7) How did Mr. Kelly and Mr. Stevens travel?

_____

8) When is the branch office opening?

_____

9) Who is waiting for them?

_____

10) Where is he going to take them?

_____

(PART. II)

AT THE AIRPORT

Mr. Murray: Welcome to Venezuela.

Mr. Kelly: Hi, Fred. Good to see you. I'd like to introduce you to Mr. Clark Stevens, the President of the Corporation.

Mr. Stevens: How do you do, Mr. Murray?.

Mr. Murray: How do you do?. It's a pleasure to have you here. I was looking forward to meet you. Did you have a nice trip?.

Mr. Stevens: Yes, it wasn't bad, you know.

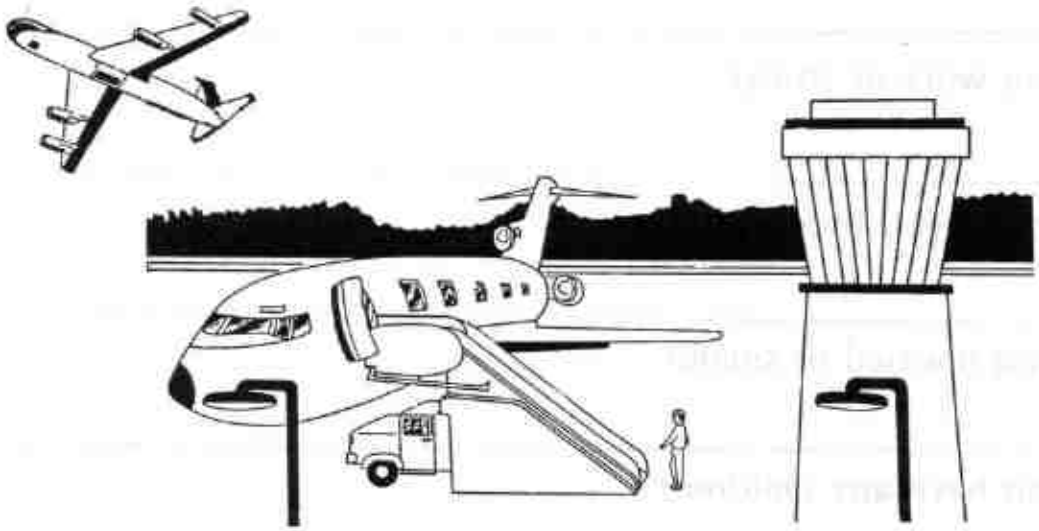

Mr. Kelly: We had a little turbulence. Nothing serious. How's everything Fred?.

Mr. Murray: Pretty good.

Mr. Kelly: How are Nancy and the kids?

Mr. Murray: Fine, Nancy just got a job and Billy and Kathy are finishing school... Let me take your bags. I parked my car near here.

Mr. Kelly: O.K. Let's go.

Personal Information

1) What's your full name?

_____

2) When were you born?

_____

3) Where were you born?

_____

4) How old are you?

_____

5) Do you work or study?

_____

6) Where do you live?

_____

7) Are you married or single?

_____

8) Do you have any children?

_____

9) Do you have a car?

_____

10) How do you come to class?

_____

Fill out the following card.

NAME (Last in CAPS) (First) (Middle)		I AM IN THE UNITED STATES AS: ☐ Visitor ☐ Permanent Resident ☐ Student ☐ Other..... (Specify)
COUNTRY OF CITIZENSHIP	DATE OF BIRTH	COPY NUMBER FROM ALIEN CARD A
PRESENT ADDRESS (Street or rural route) (City or Post Office) (State) (Zip Code)
(IF ABOVE ADDRESS IS TEMPORARY) I expect to remain there ..... years ..... months
LAST ADDRESS (Street or rural route) (City or Post Office) (State) (ZIP Code)
I WORK FOR OR ATTEND SCHOOL AT: (Employer's Name or Name of School)
(Street Address or rural route) (City or Post Office) (State) (ZIP Code)
PORT OF ENTRY INTO U.S.	DATE OF ENTRY INTO U.S.	IF NOT A PERMANENT RESIDENT. MY STAY IN THE U.S. EXPIRES ON: (Date)
SIGNATURE	DATE
AR-11 (Rev. 3-21-79)N	CPO: 1879-0-288-512	OMB Appvd. N° 43-R0038

(PART. III)

Formal Introductions.-

1.- Introducing Others:

I would like to introduce May I introduce
Allow me to introduce

2.- Self Introduction:

May I introduce myself?
Let me introduce myself
I don't belive we've met.
How do you do?
My name is

How do you do?
It's a pleasure to meet you
It's nice to meet you

Informal Introductions.-

1.- Introducing Others:

William, meet (Mr. X, my friend)
This is...
I want you to meet...

2.- Self Introductions:

Hi, I don't think we've met Hello! I'm ...
Hi, my name is...

Hi! Pleased to meet you
Hello! Nice to meet you
How are you doing?

Lesson Two 2

(PART. I)

Second (2nd) Lesson.

CAMPING

Most working Americans count on two weeks of vacation time. For millions of Americans, vacation means «hitting the open road» to see as many of the wonders of their country as they can, to visit places of historical interest and scenic beauty. Vacation trips often span the country. You can cross the continent in a week of steady driving; a train takes three days and a plane four hours.

Camping as a family vacation has suddenly become extremely popular in America.It is a cheap way to travel and it can be enjoyed by people of all ages. The sale of camping equipment has become a big business.

Tents, sleeping bags, inflatable mattresses, cooking pans and eating utensils, ice chests and a lot of other appliances are loaded in car trunks or racks on top of cars.

In the camping grounds there are clear spaces near a picnic area. Tables and benches, a fireplace, firewood and water are available. Some campers pitch-up their tents and settle down for the whole of their vacations others prefer to move camp after a night or two to cover more territory. National Parks allow campers to stay for only 15 days. One thing which can spoil your stay in these parks is poison ivy, a wild plant which can cause you painful rash if you're not careful.

Answer the questions:

1) Why is camping so popular in America?

_____

2) What do you need when camping?

_____

3) Where can you camp for up to 15 days?

_____

(PART. II)

4) Why must we be careful with poison ivy?

_____

5) Describe a camping area.

_____

6) Where can you camp in your country?

_____

7) Have you ever gone camping?

_____

8) Name 5 places of historic interest for Venezuelans.

_____

9) Name 5 places of scenic beauty in Venezuela.

_____

10) Where would you like to spend your next vacation? Why?

_____

PLANS FOR THE WEEK-END

Ted Wilkinds and his wife Jill are at the bar in the club. They are talking with Dave and Joan Green. They're making plans for the week-end.

Ted is ordering the drinks

Ted: Waiter please! A scotch with soda, bourbon on the rocks, rum and coke, and a glass of white wine.

Dave: Here we are; ready for some fun. It's Friday night.

Ted: That's right, we've worked very hard this week. I'm all tired out! I think we should go away for the week-end.

Jill: That's a great idea! Where should we go? Any suggestions?

Dave: Why don't we go to the mountains? My brother has a log-cabin we can use.

Joan: Sure, you'll love it!, There's a small lake nearby. We can go swimming while the men are fishing.

Jill: They will have to catch some fish, otherwise they won't eat.

Ted: I've never gone fishing before, but Dave is a skillful fisherman.

Dave: I hope to be lucky or we might have no dinner.

Joan: We will have a very nice week-end. You'll enjoy the silent soft wind during the night.

Jill: I'm sure it's going to be a fantastic experience to be in touch with the natural environment. We'll be in the middle of a wonderful scenery with trees, water, wild animals, etc...

Joan: You can't really imagine how it is. Just wait until you are there. You'll be unwilling to come back to civilization after you are in touch with the wonders of nature.

Ted: O.K., let's get ready for the trip

Here we have some items you'll need for camping. Say what you need each one for:

1.- Cooking pans: _____

2.- Sleeping bag: _____

3.- Matches: _____

4.- Knife: _____

5.- Gas Lamp: _____

6.- Tent: _____

(PART. III)

Complete the following dialogues:

1) a) Are you going to the swimming pool next Sunday?

b) _____

a) What are you going to do?

b) _____

2) a) Are you busy tonight?

b) _____

a) Where do you want to go dancing tonight?

b) _____

3) a) _____

b) I'm going to the theater with Peter.

a) _____

b) We only have two tickets

4) a) _____

b) No, I'm not. I'm watching T.V.

a) _____

b) You can come in half an hour.

Functions:

1.- Accepting Invitations:

A): Would you like to go the movie tonight?
B): That sounds wonderful!
A): I'll pick you up at ... Is 7:00 all right?
B): Yes, that would be O.K.
A): See you later.
B): I'll be expecting you. Thanks for calling.

Exercise:
Write a dialogue (Inviting and accepting).

_____

_____

_____

2.- Declining Invitations:

A): Do you want to go to the beach tomorrow
B): I wish I could, but I already have plans.
A): Maybe, we can go together next week-end.
B): I'd really like to, but I have to baby-sit next Saturday.
A): Really?
B): Yes, but I'd love to go with you some other time.

Exercise:
Write a dialogue (Inviting and declining)

_____

_____

_____

Lesson Three 3

(PART. I)

Third (3rd) Lesson.

SKYSCRAPERS

The world's tallest building today is Chicago's Sear's Tower. The building is 1.451 feet tall (433 meters). There are restaurants, shops and offices for thousands of people in this skyscraper, you can stand on the 100th floor and see for miles in any direction.

The John Hancock Building is another skyscraper. It has offices and stores, a swimming pool and a supermarket. But it also has many floors of apartments People can live, shop and work, all in the same building. You can live above the clouds and travel to work by elevator.

Chicago built the world's first skyscraper in 1885. That building was only ten stories high, but architects continued to make it a taller and taller building of steel and stone.

Today, Chicago has many skyscrapers and office buildings downtown. Some are old, some are beautiful and some are ugly. They have space for many people and can give us wonderful viw of the city. The land is low and flat, but Chicago rises into the sky.

CHICAGO SEAR'S TOWER

Exercises

Write down a list of advantages and another one of disadvantages when living in a skyscraper.

Advantages	Disadvantages
_____	_____
_____	_____
_____	_____
_____	_____

Answer and asking questions.

Example:

Is Chicago's Sears Tower in New York? a: No, it isn't.

Ask where.
Q. Where is it?

1.- Is the John Hancock Building the tallest in the world?

a: _____

Ask which.

Q. _____ ?

2.- Was the world's first skyscraper built in 1843?

a: _____ .

Ask when.

Q. _____

3.- Is Chicago's Sears Tower 400 meters tall?

a: _____ .

Ask how tall

Q. _____ ?

(PART. II)

HOUSE FOR SALE

June, her friend Linda and Mr. Jones, the Real Estate agent, are standing in front of a house offered for sale.

Mr. Jones: Well, Mrs. Johnson, this is the house I told you about. It looks good, doesn't it?

June: Sure, it does. It has a beautiful garden. I can grow my carnations here. I love gardening.

Mr. Jones: Let me show you around. I have the keys right here ... This is the living room.

June: The walls need painting and the floor needs some repairing. What do you think about it, Linda?

Linda: I agree. But look at the lamps. They're terrific and the fire place is so nice. I think this place is worth restoring.

June: Yes, you're right, Linda.

Mr. Jones: This is the kitchen. As you can see, it is completely furnished. There is a sink, a fridge and some cabinets and shelves.

June: Oh, It isn't very big, is it?

Mr. Jones: No, it isn't. But it's comfortable. Just look at the cupboards, they're pretty big.

Linda: Yes, June. Mr. Jones is right. You have to take comfort into account, too.This kitchen is more comfortable than mine.

June: Yes, I agree with you Linda. By the way, how many bedrooms are there, Mr. Jones?

Mr. Jones: There are four.

Linda: Oh, great. I think you should take this house, June. It's lovely.

June: Yes. I guess Tom and the children will really enjoy living here. When could we sign the contract, Mr. Jones?

Mr. Jones: Let me see ... is Tuesday morning all right?

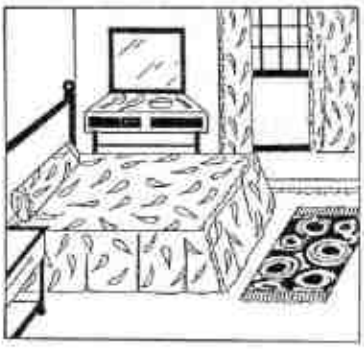

June: Yes, it's all right. Thanks for your help, Mr. Jones.

Linda: Good-bye.

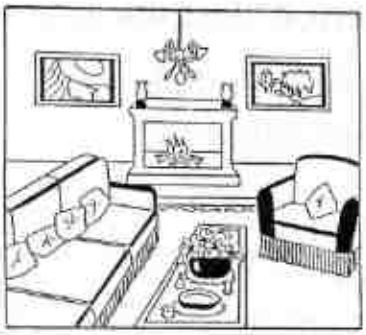

Mr. Jones: Good-bye, see you on Tuesday.

Answer the following questions according to the dialogue:

1) What is Mr. Jones' job?

2) June loves gardening, doesn't she?

3) What's wrong with the walls?

4) What about the floor?

5) Are the lamps beautiful?

_____

6) Describe the kitchen

_____

7) How many bedrooms are there?

_____

8) Who will enjoy living in the house?

_____

9) When are June, her husband and Mr. Jones going to meet?

_____

10) Why are they going to meet?

_____

Write a second sentence. Follow the example.

e.g.: You must clean the windows.
The windows need cleaning.

You must mend that chair
You must repair the roof.
You must wash all the curtains.
You must fix the stereo.
You must polish the floor.

(PART. III)

Functions.-

1.- Expressing Agreement:

Formal:	Informal:
I couldn't agree more	You bet
You're right	I'll say
I agree	No doubt about it.
That's true	I'll second that

2.- Expressing Disagreement:

Formal:	Informal:
I'm sorry but I don't agree	You're wrong
I disagree	You can't be serious
I don't think so	No way!
I wouldn't say that	You're out of your mind

Composition Exercises

Describe the house of your dreams:

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

Lesson Four 4

Fourth (4th) Lesson.

(PART. I)

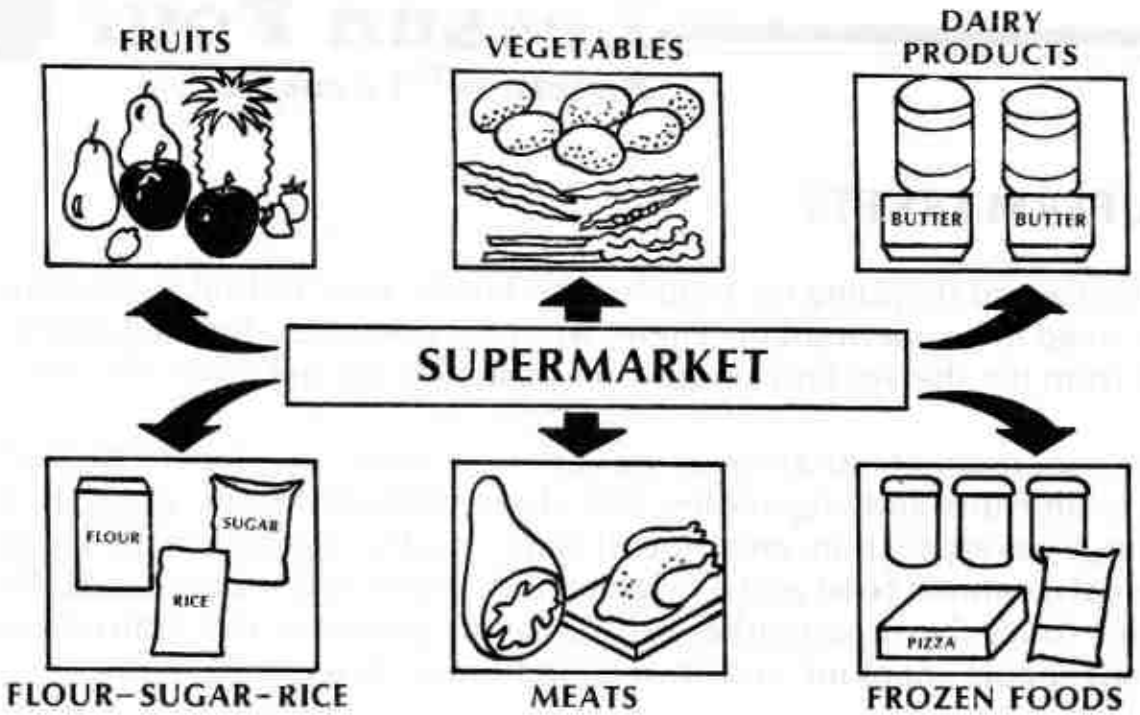

SUPERMARKETS

When we go shopping for food for the family we can find everything we need in a supermarket. There, we serve ourselves, loading groceries from the shelves into a push cart, pushing it up and down the aisles.

The supermarket has an amazing variety of food to select from, such as fresh fruits and vegetables, fish, dairy products, flour, sugar, rice, a large bakery section, meat of all kinds, food for pets, candies, spices, cereals, canned food and a large section of packed frozen foods. Besides food, the supermarket sells cleaning powders and soaps of all kinds, paper, napkins and towels and many household items.

Many foods are completely prepared. These are frozen pizza pies, canned or frozen stews, spaghetti and meat or macaroni and cheese dinners, all pre-cooked. The famous «T.V. Dinners» are very popular because they are cooked while the family is supposedly watching T.V. and will continue watching T.V. as they eat right from the aluminum cooking trays.

Answer:

1) Where can we find everything when shopping for food?

2) Name some of the foods we can get at supermarkets?

3) Besides food, what other things can we get at supermarkets?

4) Name some of the foods that are completely prepared.

5) What is a «TV dinner»?

Expressions of Quantity for Shopping

a container half a pint	}	OF heavy cream
a quart half a gallon a gallon	}	OF milk, orange juice, etc.
a pound, five pounds	}	OF flour, sugar, coffee, apples, potatoes, onions
a box		OF detergent, dog food, spaghetti, cookies, crackers, toothpicks, tissues
a can		OF soup, tuna
a package		OF frozen peas, sponges, paper plates
a package a carton	}	OF cigarretes
a roll		OF paper towels, toilet paper, waxed paper

a loaf	OF bread
a head	OF lettuce, cabbage, garlic
a bunch	OF carrots, parsley, celery, radishes an ear	OF corn
a dozen	— eggs, rolls.

(PART. II)

AT THE GROCER'S

- Good morning, Mr. Jenkins.

- Well, hello Angie. What can I do for you today?

- I want to bake a cake for my mother. It's her birthday tomorrow. I need some ingredients.

- What do you need?

- I need some sugar

- How much do you need?

- Ummm... a pound will do and, I also want a dozen brown eggs. Please, be sure there aren't any bad ones. Otherwise, I'll bring them back.

- Of course, we sell only fresh food here. What else do you want?

- I hardly have any flour. Please, give me some self-raising flour and half a gallon of milk.

- Yes. How much flour do you want?

- Two pounds and er... a pound of butter as well. Oh!, I also need a large bar of semi-sweet chocolate.

- We have a special sale on this new brand of butter. It's only $1.75.

- All right, I'll try it out. Do you have any oranges? If they are firm and ripe, I'd like to take some for juice. How much do they cost?

- Oranges are three for 62 cents.

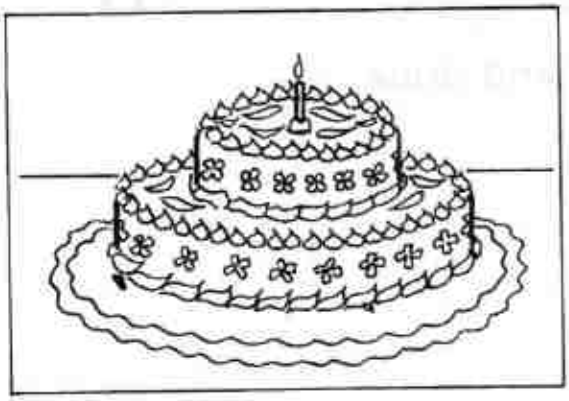

- I'll get half a dozen, then ... O.K. ... I guess that's all. How much Is everything, Mr. Jenkins? - Let´s see. That´s $7.25.

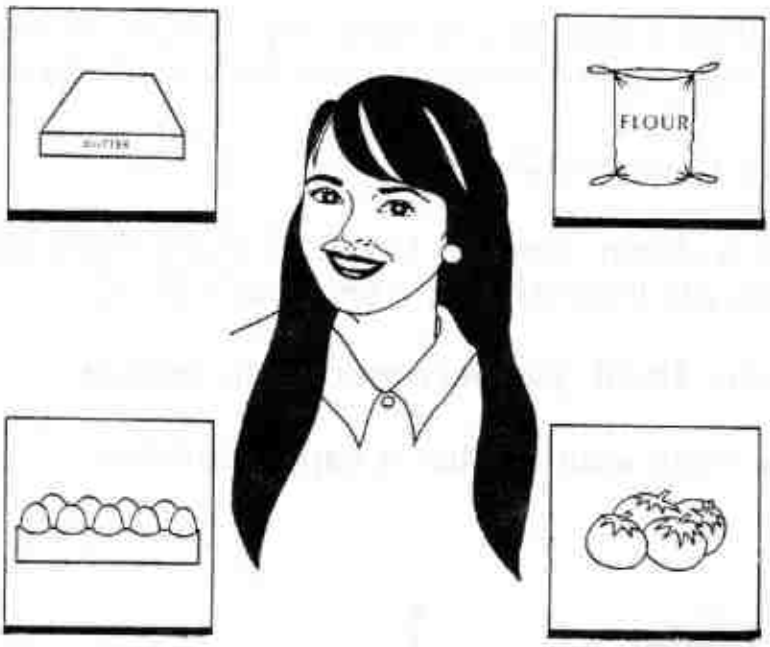

- Here you are. Thank you very much, Mr. Jenkins.

- Bye, Angie. Wish your mother a happy birthday

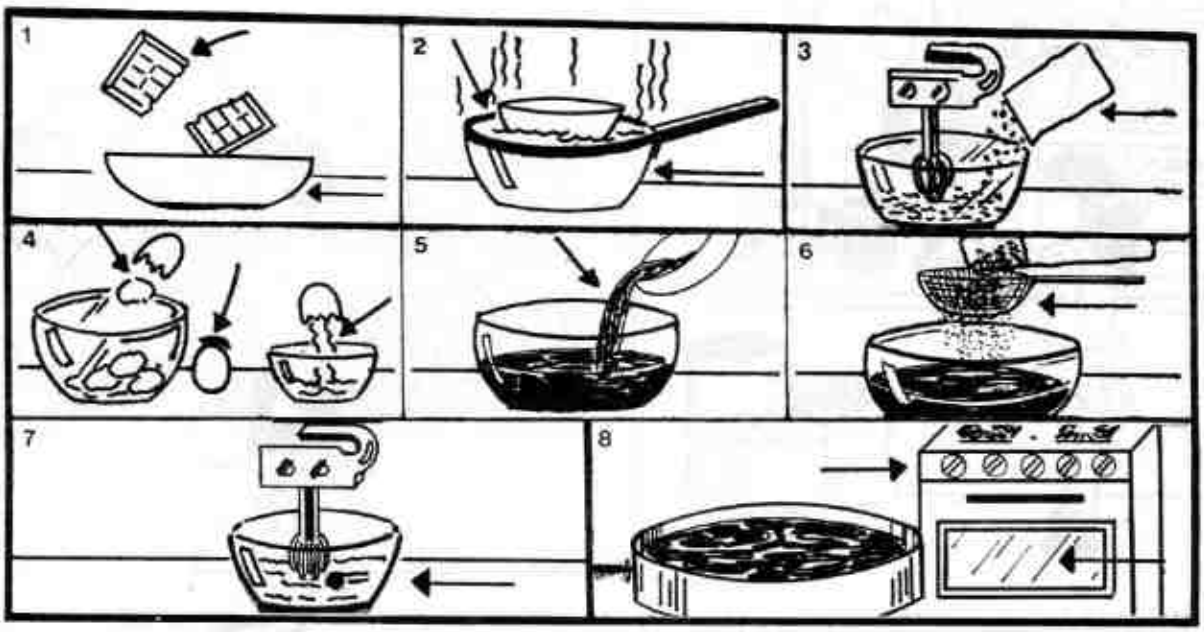

Label the arrowed objects. Choose from the following list of words:

Mixer, egg yolk, hot water, melted chocolate, oven, sugar, egg white, chocolate, sieve, basin, stove, pan, baking tin, egg, mixture, butter.

(PART. III) FUNCTION: Offer food and drink.

- Why don't you join us for dinner?

- Would you like another piece of cake?

- Would you like a cup of coffee?

- How about going out for some chinese food?

- How about some hamburgers?

- Would you care for some fried chicken?

- Let's have something to drink.

Answer:

1) Why was Angie at the grocer's?

_____

2) Did she need any sugar?

_____

3) How much did she want?

_____

4) How many eggs did she want?

_____

5) How much milk did she want?

_____

6) What kind of chocolate did she want?

_____

7) How much was the butter?

_____

8) How muchwere the oranges?

_____

9) How much was for everything?

_____

Ingredients for a Chocolate Cake

- 150 g self rising flour
- 25 g semi-sweet chocolate
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- Pinch of salt
- 150 g soft butter
- 150 g sugar
- 3 large eggs
- 1 cup of milk

Lesson Five 5

(PART. I)

Fifth (5th) Lesson.

MRS. EVANS AND THE BURGLAR

On Friday afternoon, Mr. Evans, was going out she took her handbag and umbrella, pulled the door behind her to lock it and went to the Ladies's Club. She always goes there on Fridays.

When she came back home, she went into the living room and at once smelled cigarette smoke. She never smoked. "Had somebody broken in?" she thought. She checked all doors and windows. They were all locked. She went from room to room checking. She noticed that some things were missing.

She wondered whether someone might have a key that fitted her front door. She decided to stay at home the following Friday. Nothing happened. Perhaps someone was watching her movements. On the Friday after that, she went out as usual but instead of going to the Club she took a short cut home again and entered the house through the backdoor. She waited in the kitchen. While she was making a cup of tea, she heard a sound coming from the door. Suddenly, she saw a long piece of wire entering through the letter-box and then a hand. She had the tea kettle with boiling water in her hand. She raised it and poured the water over the hand. There was a shout outside. The wire fell to the floor, the hand was pulled back, and she heard the sound of hurrying feet running away.

She reported the episode to the police that same evening. They came and took the wire away. A few days later the police found the man and recovered Mrs. Evans'things.

Answer these questions:

1.- What did Mrs. Evans usually do on Friday afternoon?

_____

2.- What kind of smell was there in the living room when she got in?

_____

3.- Was she a smoker?

_____

4.- What did she notice?

_____

5.- What did she decide to do the following Friday?

_____

6.- What happened while she was making a cup or tea?

_____

7.- What did she see coming through the letter-box?

_____

8.- What did she do then?

_____

9.- Did she call the police that evening?

_____

10.- When did the police find the man?

_____

Have you, one of your relatives or friends ever been robbed?
If so, tell how it happened?

Ask questions to the following sentences. Use the interrogatives word given.

1. The secretary typed the letters.
   What _____

2. I went to the theater last week.
   Where _____

3. I bought a beautiful present for my mother yesterday.
   For whom _____

4. We had a marvellous dinner last night.
   When _____

5. John left home at 5:00 a.m. this morning.
   What time _____

6. I slept well last night.
   How _____

(PART. II)

THE UNINVITED GUEST

While Mr. Brown was getting the car out of the garage his wife went round the house closing all the windows and turning off the lights. They were going to a concert that evening.

Mr. Brown: Did you close all the windows and lock the front door, dear?

Mrs. Brown: Why do you ask? I certainly did. You know there have been a lot of burglaries in this neighborhood lately.

Mr. Brown: And the police haven't done much about it. Thieves seem to be very clever, in these days, more clever than the cops, I would say.

Mrs. Brown: Fortunately, our house is well protected and it won't be easy to get in. By the way, do you have the tickets?

Mr. Brown: Who me? I thought you'd taken them from the cupboard. Oh,no. Don't tell me you don't have them.

Mrs. Brown: Well, I'm afraid we'll have to go back home for the tickets.

Mr. Brown: Please turn on the dining-room lights, I can't find them in the dark.

Mrs. Brown: Look! What's that bag on the floor? And that window is open!

Mr. Brown: Gee, somebody broke in while we were going to the theater. My dear, I'm afraid you didn't close that window, after all.

Mrs. Brown: How could it have happened? I was quite sure I had. Let's see if there's something missing. I can't believe it He couldn't take anything away

Mr. Brown: I think he saw the lights of the car outside. Then he realized that if he wanted to run away he wouldn't be able to take anything with him.

Mrs. Brown: We were lucky we left the tickets behind, otherwise that uninvited guest would have gotten away with it.

Answer.

1.- What was Mrs. Brown doing?

_____

2.- Was Mr. Brown in the house?

_____

3.- Why did they have to be exceptionally careful about doors and windows?

_____

4.- What did Mr. Brown complain about?

_____

5.- Why did they have to go back to their house?

_____

6.- How did the burglar break into the house?

_____

7.- Why did he run away?

_____

(PART. III)

Functions: Worry and Fear

I'm worried about Mrs. Evans. I haven't seen her for a week.	You shouldn't worry. You know she often stays with her daughter.
There are strange noises inside the house. I'm scared to death	Just keep cool and call the police.
It was a really frightening experience.	Yes, but nothing happened.

PASTPUZZLE.

Find the verbs in past tense. There are sixteen.

A	H	G	R	I	J	P	C	T	H	K	E
M	D	S	O	L	D	L	L	W	O	O	J
F	R	Z	D	N	B	R	O	U	G	H	T
V	A	T	E	E	Y	W	N	B	F	Y	S
B	N	S	D	U	C	H	S	H	O	N	E
W	K	O	K	J	A	A	C	S	Q	L	G
E	Q	U	P	O	M	Z	V	G	U	M	G
N	D	F	G	B	E	G	A	N	R	X	O
N	U	L	X	L	K	A	X	S	D	P	T
I	M	E	T	B	M	V	W	A	V	U	T
Y	J	W	R	O	T	E	F	W	E	N	T
C	Z	W	O	N	R	Q	Z	K	E	B	A

Lesson Six 6

(PART. I)

Sixth (6th) Lesson.

SALE ADS

Sale ads are written to let you know about special prices or to make you believe you are getting a really good deal on a product. It is very important that you read all of the print in a sale ad. You need to know all the facts about a sale before you can make a wise choice.

On sale ads, large print and small print are often used. The large print gets your attention, and the small print usually gives you more specific information. For example, the large print may say ONLY $ 6.98, and the small print for that ad will say monthly payment for six months Notice that in this case a star was used to let you know that there was more information. «Batteries not included» or «with a purchase of two or more» are other examples of what might be found in small print.

Ads do not always tell you everything you need to know in order to make a wise choice. For example, the ad may not tell you if the price applies only to certain color or sizes. Or it may not tell you how long the sale will last. When that happens, you need to find out these facts yourself. So my advice to you is read the ad carefully and thoroughly before going to the shop where the sale is offered.

Answer:

1.- What are sale ads written for?

_____

2.- Why should we read all the print in a sale ad?

_____

3.- Do ads always tell you everything about a product?

Look carefully at the following ad:

GOLD BRACELETS
ALL 18 k GOLD
UP TO 50% OFF
Prices regularly from $ 50 to $ 325 now only $ 35 to $ 250

Jewelry Paradise
556 Lincoln Road
(Open daily 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.)
Close Sudays

Questions on the ad.

1.- Are silver articles on sales?

_____

2.- What facts would you have to find out?

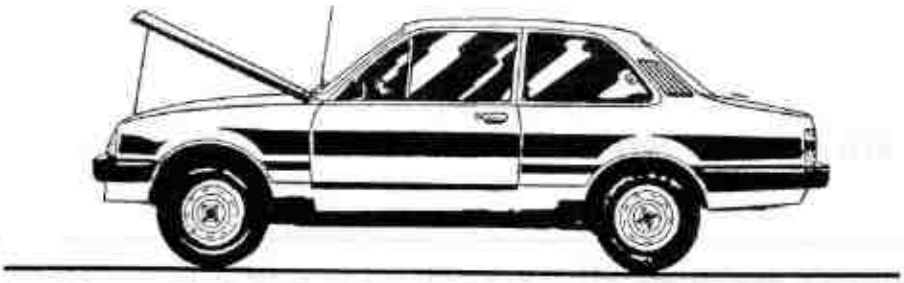

_____

3.- What is on sale?

_____

4.- Who would probably be interested in this kind of merchandise?

_____

Advertise:

Write an ad offering this car for sale. Use the following expressions or/and others:

Looks like	light	5 speed shift
sport sedan	smooth	power brakes power steering	engine	aerodynamic made of

(PART. II)

DOES ADVERTISING REALLY HELP CONSUMERS?

Gary: It's really amazing how advertising on TV, on radio or magazines urges us to dress, live ... in a certain way.

Peter: Yeah, and it's not only amazing but also frightening, because all our ideas about how we're supposed to behave and look come from advertising.

Gary: Just look at TV commercials. They tell us what sort or brand of shampoo, soap or perfume we should use.

Peter: And clothing...

Gary: Yes, and clothing too. They claim that unless we accept this ... or ... that style we won't be successful in life.

Peter: Unfortunately, many people believe this, and that, of course, is not true.

Gary: I have a friend, Karen, you know her.

Peter: Isn't she the girl who just graduated from college?

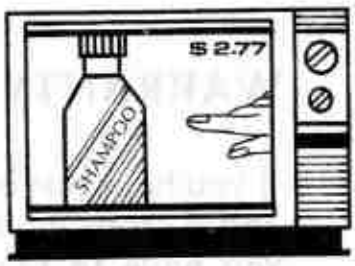

Gary: Yes,she got a degree in advertising. Well ...
She is very excited about her job, and when she has an idea that can be used to convince people to buy something, she won't care about the quality of the product she's trying to sell.

Peter: That's typical in this sort of business, I guess.

Gary: Yeah, but that's quite unfair to consumers.

Write a paragraph in which you express your opinion about TV advertising in Venezuela. Discuss it with your teacher in a conversation group.

(PART. III)

FUNCTIONS: Expressing opinions.

Formal

- Personally, I think ... (Chinese food is delicious)
- I think (It's going to snow)
- I believe (Venezuelan economy will improve)
- In my opinion (Magallanes will win the championship).
- It seems to me (This is the best research paper)

Informal

- Margarita island is a paradise
- Isn't this dress beautiful?
- The film was terrible, wasn't it?

Lesson Seven 7

(PART. I)

Seventh (7th) Lesson.

WARRANTY

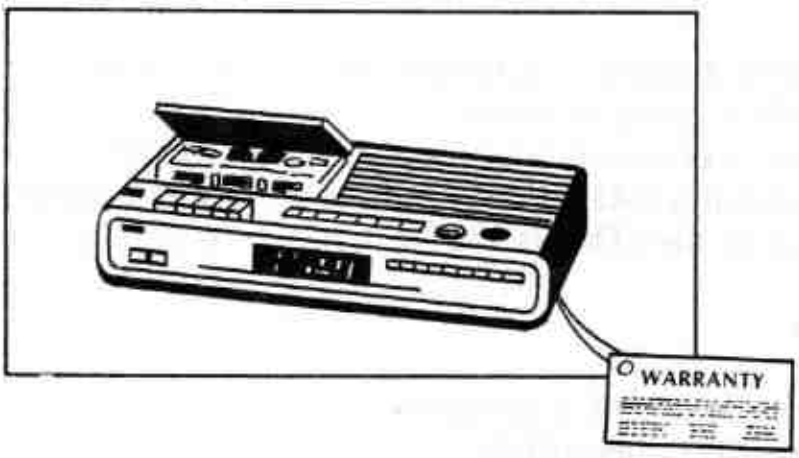

If you have just bought a product, such as a stereo or an air-conditioner, and it stops working after a short period of time, what can you do?. You have to read the warranty so you´ll know what to do.

A warranty is a promise given by a company that makes a product. It tells you what the company is willing to do if the product breaks or stops working.Reading a warranty before you buy a product may help you to spend your money wisely.

Most warranties give the following information:
a.- What is covered by the warranty.
b.- How long the product is covered.
c.- Conditions under which something will be fixed or replaced.
d.- What to do if the product needs to be replaced or repaired.

Sometimes the words used in warranties are confusing. If you don't understand a word , look it up in a dictionary. If you still do not know what the warranty means, ask the sales person.

It is a good idea to keep the sales receipt with the warranty for a product. If a product was given to you as a gift, write the date this product was given to you on the warranty. This way you will be able to prove when you received the product.

LIMITED WARRANTY

Smart Buy Computer Company is sure that the Home Computer 2000 you just purchased is of the highest quality. However, we realize that occasionally there may be a defect. This warranty guarantees that if the home computer you have purchased is defective, Smart Buy Computer Company will fix or replace all parts with new or rebuilt parts for a period of one year from the original date of purchase. Some electrical parts are covered for two years from the original date of purchase. Any labor charges must be paid by the customer.

This warranty covers only computers that are found to be defective in normal use. This does not include computers that are used in school or business settings. This warranty does not cover any damage caused by any kind of misuse, faulty wiring, lightning, or service performed by anyone other than someone authorized in writing by this company. The cabinet and keyboard are not covered by this warranty.

If you need repairs in this product, write to Smart Buy Computer Company, Consumer Services Departament, 876 Memory Road, Little Rock, Arkansas 72212. Include a description of the problem, proof of the date of original purchase, and your name and address. DO NOT have this product serviced without written instructions from this company.

This warranty gives you specific legal rights. You may also have other rights, which vary from state to state.

Answer:

1. What does this warranty cover?

_____

2. For how long will the company fix or replace all parts?

_____

3. What does autorized mean in the second paragraph?

_____

4. What kinds of damages are not covered by this warranty?

_____

5. If you need to have this machine fixed, what should you do?

_____

6. What is covered for two years by this warranty?

_____

7. Who makes this product?

_____

8. What parts of this product, if any, are not covered by this warranty?

_____

9. Will this product always be repaired with new parts?

_____

10. What will you pay if you have the product repaired?

_____

Limited One-Year Warranty

Score Athletic Products, Inc. promises to fix or replace your Score tennis racket for one full year from date of purchase should it prove to be defective with normal use. This warranty does not cover strings or handgrips.

This warranty is void if the tennis racket has been misused in any way or if the defect is caused by any service performed on the racket by anyone other than Score Athletic Products, Inc.

A sales receipt or other proof of the original date of purchase must be provided before any service will be given by this company.

If a problem should develop within the warranty period, send the defective racket along with your name and address and proof of the original purchase date to Score Athletic Products, Inc.

Customer Service Departament
1010 Sport Drive
Austin, Texas 78750

Please include a check or money order for $ 4,50 to cover postage and handling charges.
This warranty gives you specific legal rights. You may also have other rights, which vary from state to state.

Answer:

1.- For how long will the company fix or replace the tennis racket?

_____

2.- What isn't covered by this warranty?

_____

3.- What do void, misused and defect mean?

_____

4.- What must you prove before having the racket fixed or replaced?

_____

Mrs. Benson: I hope you can do something about it.

Clerk: Did you use a new cassette tape?

Mrs. Benson: No.

Clerk: Let's take a look at your old cassette tape. Ah! That's it. The knock-out tabs are removed. You won't be able to record anything on it. O.K. Let's insert a new one. Speak on the microphone.

Mrs. Benson: Oh, is that my voice?

Clerk: It certainly is.

Mrs. Benson: I'm so sorry. It was such a simple problem. I'm so silly.

Clerk: Not at all, Mrs. Benson. Lots of people have this sort of problem. Sometimes simple problems are not so easy to solve.

Mrs. Benson: Thanks a lot.

Clerk: You're welcome. Remember we're here to help you.

Write a dialogue. (See function).
You just bought an alarm clock from a shop. The clock slows down ten minutes every hour. Go to the shop and complain to the sales assistant.

Change the following sentences into the passive form.

e.g: My mother bought that hat.
That hat was bought by my mother.

1.- She was baking a cake this morning.

_____

2.- A thief took the jewels.

_____

3.- You must take care of him.

_____

4.- They're publishing Jim's book in a two volume edition.

_____

5.- The mechanic repaired the car.

_____

6.- We have cooked meals in those pots for years.

_____

7.- May answers all the questions.

_____

8.- They will wash all the windows.

_____

(PART.

FUNCTION: Complaining.

When we complain about a product or a service we can use these expressions:

- I want to return this ... (stereo, Camera, etc)
- It doesn't ... (Work, fit)
- I want my money back on these ... (Stocking, shoes, etc)
- They were ... (torn, broken, etc.)
- They are ... (too big, expensive, etc)
- I must complain about the ... (service, food, etc)

Lesson Eight 8

(PART. I)

Eighth (8th) Lesson.

EXPORTING

In the United States of America a business man who needs help to start marketing his products abroad must visit the Departament of Commerce. An official of the Departament will listen to him and see the specific areas he wants information about.

If you intend to sell your products in a foreign country, you will need to know how to select the foreign market. First of all you will have to find out what countries need or want your product. After that you may inquire about selling and promotion methods, channels of distribution, figures on population, consumption and foreign exchange reserves.

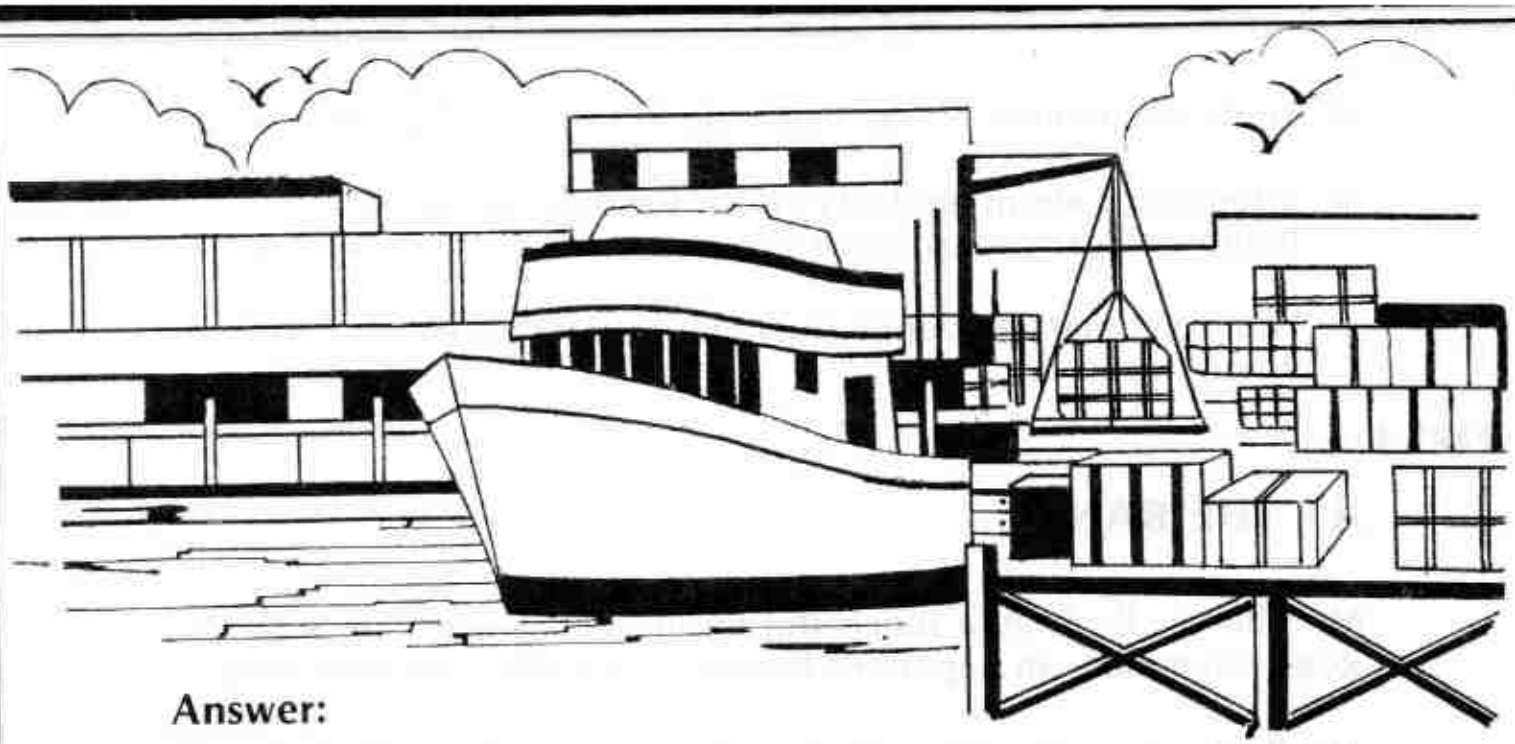

As the purchasing power in various countries is never the same, the official of the Departament of Commerce can provide you with data on the incomes of your possible customers.

You must give some attention to trade restrictions, such as tariffs and quotas, as well as other legal requirements which may include import licenses and exchange permits.

If you decided to test the market, you could mail catalogues and print lists. You might also display your products at fairs and trade centers.

You could size up your competitors abroad by examining directories and catalogues of products similar to yours. Moreover export magazines and trade publications will help you to compare specifications, functions, quality, packaging, and appearance.

If you are still interested in exporting something, I wish you good luck.

Answer:

1.- How should he select the foreign market?

_____

2.- Who can provide you with data on the income of your possible customers?

_____

3.- How can you test the market?

_____

4.- Where can you display your products?

_____

Decide whether the following statements are TRUE or FALSE

	T	F
1. The U.S. Departament of Commerce is never willing to help businessmen.	—	—
2. The purchasing power in Venezuela is different from the purchasing power in the U.S.A.	—	—
3. Price lists and catalogues can be used to test the customer's response to the product.	—	—

4. Trade restrictions can be overlooked. — —

5. Information about products similar to yours can be found in local departament stores. — —

6. You won't market your product in a country which doesn't need it. — —

(PART. II)

AT THE BANK

Mr. Thomas Paulson, a successful businessman, is talking with Mr. Roger Chapman, an important banker, in his office in New York.

Mr. Paulson: I'm just gathering information about international trade, and I hope you can give me some advice on how to finance exports.

Mr. Chapman: Well, I think I can offer you a little help.

Mr. Paulson: Fine. One thing I would like to know is if my customer can deposit the full payment for the goods transferred to your bank.

Mr. Chapman: Oh, certainly. There's no problem at all. Your customer's bank will forward a letter of credit to us.

Mr Paulson: Then if I fulfill the terms of the sales contract, will I get the payment?

Mr. Chapman: That's right. You will receive your money as soon as you present to this bank a commercial invoice, an insurance certificate and a set of on-board bill of lading.

Mr. Paulson: This would be evidence that the goods were received by the customer.

Mr. Chapman: Yes.

Mr. Paulson: My customer has agreed to give me an irrevocable letter of credit.

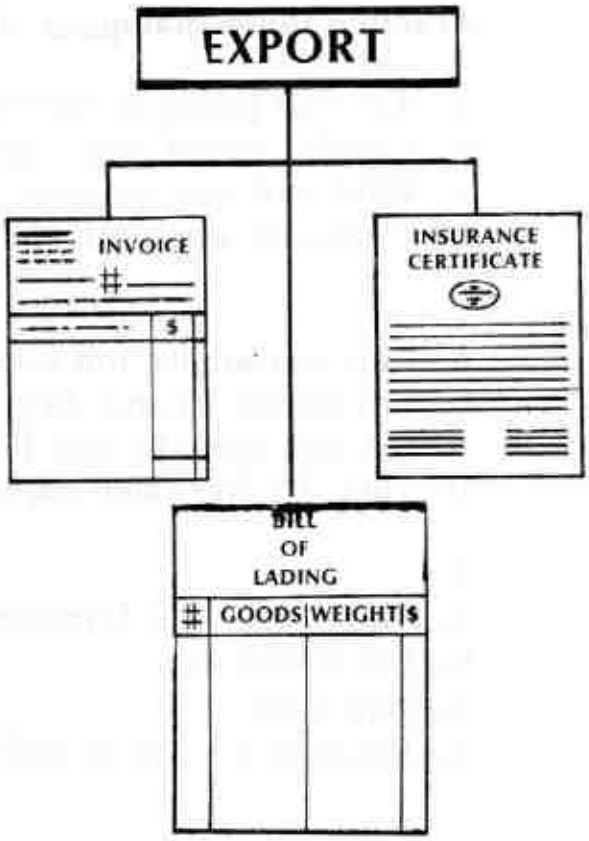

Mr. Chapman: That sounds fine. That's almost cash in advance.

Mr. Paulson: Could I sell to my foreign customers on open account, just as I do here in my country?

Mr. Chapman: If the customer's credit is good, that will be all right.

Mr. Paulson: Thanks. That's all for now.

Answer:

1.- What kind of information is Mr. Paulson looking for?

_____

2.- Can Mr. Champan help him?

_____

3.- What first thing does Mr. Paulson want to know?

_____

4.- What would happen if Mr. Paulson fulfills the terms of the sales contract?

_____

5.- When will Mr. Paulson receive his money?

_____

6.- What has Mr. Paulson's customer agreed to give him?

_____

Practice these dialogues with your teacher.

1.
a.- Are you going to see the manager of the bank today?
b.- I wish I could, but I don't have the time?
a.- What are you going to do?
b.- I have an appointment with a Venezuelan businessman.

2.-
a.- Can you advise me on marketing products abroad?
b.- I'm afraid, I can't. Why don't you consult Mr. Chapman?
a.- Do you think he can help me?
b.- Sure. He has been exporting goods abroad for about ten years.

3.
a.- May I use your telephone?
b.- I'm afraid not.
a.- Why not?
b.- Because it's out of order.

Word game

How many words can you make from the nine letters?
You can use each letter once only.

U B A N M C
E L A

(PART. III)

FUNCTION: Making Request

Formal	Possible responses
Can you possibly...?	I'm sorry, I can't...
Would you mind... (ing)?	Sure,...
Would you mind if...?	Of course not....
Could you...?	Certainly, I'd be very pleased to.
Informal
Do me a favor, will you?	I wish I could, but...
You don't mind if..., do you?	Whatever you say...
I'd like you to...	Not at all.

Lesson Nine 9

(PART. I)

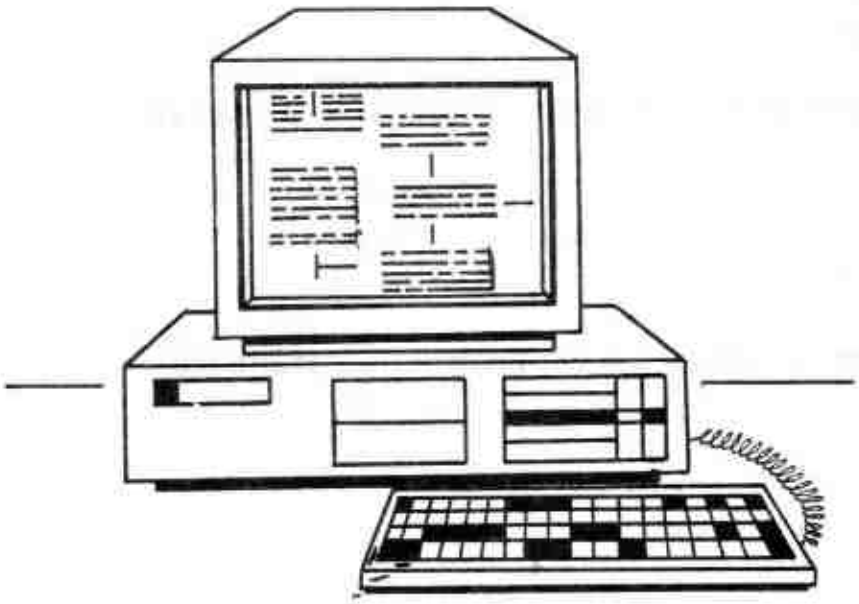

Ninth (9th) Lesson.

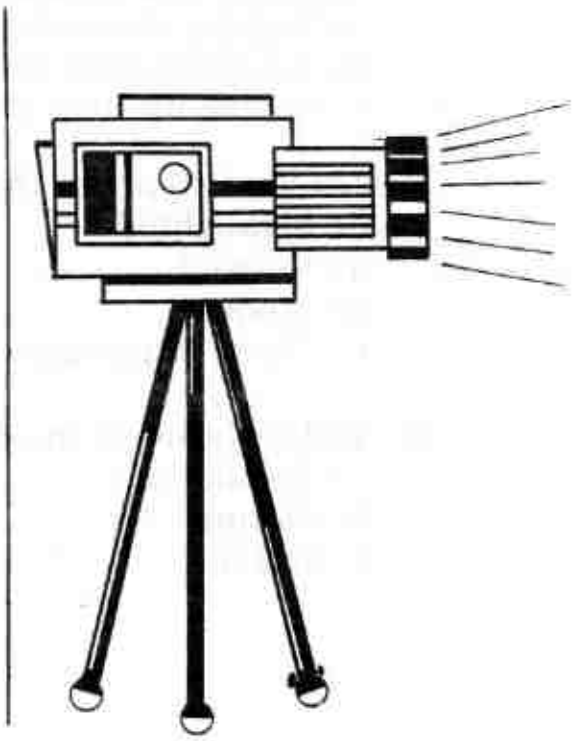

AUDIO-VISUAL AIDS IN BUSINESS PRESENTATIONS

Business speakers have long known the value of audiovisual (AV) aids in getting their ideas across an audience. Flip charts were the first used to emphasize points to be highlighted. However the true potential of the audiovisual medium wasn't realized until speakers began to use electronic equipment such as overhead projectors and color slide projectors to make their picture charts, and graphs more visual; and thus more memorable.

Today business speakers must meet new performance standards set by television advertising, music videos, etc. The graphics for slides are often generated by highly sophisticated computer systems. Yesterday's speech has become today's presentation, accompanied by music, sound effects and multiple images flashing on giant screens.

A modern computer system that can generate slides of film strips can cost almost half of a million dollars, but most are priced between $ 5,000 and $10,000. The simple slide projector is the most common and cheapest mode of presentation. Sophisticated systems which can link several projectors in a fully synchronized sound and light presentation are available. Money invested in audio-visual equipment can pay better off in communication.

Answer:

1.- What is the role of audiovisual aids in business presentations?

_____

2.- When did business speakers understand fully the potential of these resources?

_____

3.- What has replaced the speech of past times?

_____

4.- How much does a sophisticated computer system like the one mentioned above cost?

_____

5.- Why are slide projectors widely used?

_____

Select the closest meaning for the underlined words:

1) Business speakers have long known the value of audiovisual aids in getting their ideas across to a group.
   a.- Making their ideas undertood.
   b.- Adapting their ideas.
   c.- Giving up their ideas.

2) The first step was the use of flip charts to emphasize points to be highlighted a.- Revised.
   b.- Ignored.
   c.- Given importance.

3) Todays business speakers must meet new performance standards.
   a.- Regulations.
   b.- Norms.
   c.- Details.

4) The graphic for slides are generated by highly sophisticated computer systems.
   a.- Complicated.
   b.- Unusual.
   c.- Expensive.

(PART. II)

EXECUTIVE BOARD MEETING

Jack Brown-President
Henry Fischer-Vice-President
William Turner-General Manager

J.B.: I've called this board meeting because we have to make some important decisions. Our sales have totalled Bs. 5,000,000 this year, but the profit margin has gone down because of the weakness of our currency and higher costs for raw material and labor.

W.T.: Sir, I haven't been informed about this ...

J.B.: We apologize, but all the reports were not available until Monday.

H.F.: Is the situation that bad?

J.B.: Not really, our sales figures have gone up, and our long term prospects are excellent.

W.T.: At least, that's good news. We will have to invest in new machinery.

H.F.: How much?

J.B.: About Bs. 10,000,000, we'll raise our productivity and lower our tax bill.

W.T.: How has the advertising campaign gone?

H.F.: It's gone quite well. We've had several new inquiries.

J.B.: Please gentlemen, we have to speak about the accountant's report.

W.T.: I haven't read it in detail, but his recommendations have had good results in the past.

H.F.: Let's take a vote then. All in favor... OK. William, look for the quotes for the new equipment.

J.B.: Let´s continue with the next point on the agenda. Stop the tape.

Answer:

1.- Why has the profit margin gone down?

_____

2.- What has happened to the sales figures?

_____

3.- What will raise the productivity and lower the tax bill?

_____

4.- How has the advertising campaign gone?

_____

5.- What have they said about the accountant's report?

_____

6.- Did they agree on their vote?

_____

7.- What does William have to do?

_____

8.- Has the meeting finished?

_____

(PART. III)

FUNCTION: Interrupting in a meeting.

Excuse me, Mr. Chairman (Mr. Brown, etc.)	—	Yes, Mr White?
Sorry to interrupt, but I have a question	—	That's all right. Go ahead.
Excuse me. I'd like to make a comment on that.	—	Could you please wait a couple of minutes until I finish this point.
I hate to interrupt, but could you be more specific?	—	Oh, certainly. What exactly do you want to know?

Lesson Ten 10

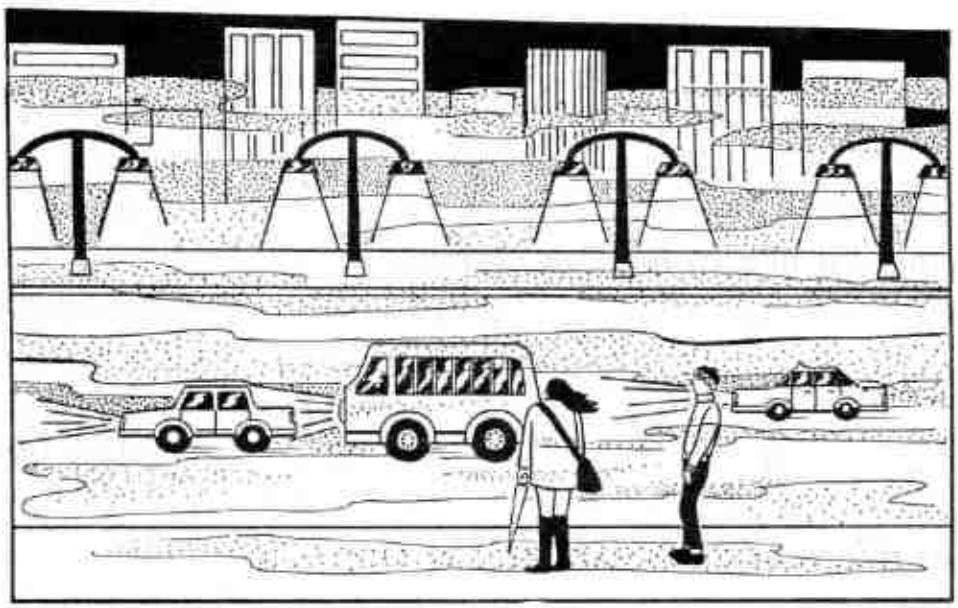

(PART. I)

Tenth (10th) Lesson.

A FOGGY NIGHT

It´s been quite a long time since I went to Los Teques. During that visit it was terribly foggy. It was so foggy that I couldn´t even see my own feet. Cars and buses moved slowly with lights on and blowing their horns. During the night the weather got worse. Traffic came to a standstill. I had an appointment on the other side of the city that I couldn't cancel. I could not get a taxi, so I had to walk.

After a few steps I was lost. I couldn't see anything that would give me an idea where I was. Suddenly I heard a female voice, offering to help me. I explained to her where I wanted to go; she told me to follow her. I hesitated, but what else could I do? I feared she could be leading me to a place where I would be robbed by her friends. My fears were unfounded , she led me exactly to my destination. I wondered how she had found that address so easily through the fog. To satisfy my curiosity she told me that she was blind. She explained that she knew this part of the city very well.

Answer:

1.- What was the weather like?

_____

2.- Did it get better or worse during the night?

_____

3.- What did you have to do that night?

_____

4.- Did you take a taxi? Why not?

_____

5.- Who helped you?

_____

6.- Were you afraid of the woman? Why?

_____

7.- Did she have any trouble leading you to the other side of town?

_____

(PART. II)

WHERE'S MY HUSBAND?

Mrs. Smith: Excuse me officer, but have you seen an old gentleman looking for his glasses?

Police Officer: An old gentleman?

Mrs. Smith: He's not so old really, about my age. He's my husband, and I've lost him.

Police Officer: You've lost your husband?

Mrs. Smith: I haven't really lost him, but I'm looking for him because he's lost his glasses. Actually he hasn't lost them, I have them in my handbag, but he thinks he's lost them so it is the same.

Police Officer: Can you describe this gentleman?

Mrs. Smith: He's average height and has brown hair, only it's gray now, of course, and he wears glasses, but he won't be wearing them because he's lost them.

Police Officer: How is he dressed?

Mrs. Smith: Oh, very elegant, he always is. Oh, excuse me, do you mean what he was wearing? I think he is wearing his gray slacks and his black and white jacket but it might have been the blue blazer. Really, you know, I can't remember and in any case he was wearing his raincoat so you wouldn't be able to see.

Police Officer: What color is the raincoat?

Mrs. Smith: Gray, I think, light gray, and there´s a button missing, I know that because I forgot to sew it on yesterday.

Police Officer: Excuse me, would that be the gentleman over there by the bus-stop?

Mrs. Smith: Yes, it's him! He must have been waiting all this time. Thank you, you've been a great help.

Answer:

1.- Who is the lady speaking with?

_____

2.- What has she lost?

_____

3.- Describe Mr. Smith

4.- What is he wearing?

5.- Where did the policeman see him?

6.- What has he been doing?

Have you ever lost somebody or something? Write about it.

Give your own answer.

1.- How would you describe yourself?

2.- What are you wearing?

3.- Does your shirt have any buttons missing?

EXERCISES:

Exercise A.- Change to Present Perfect, Affirmative Statements:

1.- Jane opened the window this mornig.

2.- I answered two questions today.
3.- Bill talked to Tom twice this week.
4.- Paul bought four books this month.
5.- John was here three times this afternoon.

Exercise B.- Answer these questions; use negative statements:

1.- Have you visited Caracas?
2.- Have they gone to Maracaibo?
3.- Has he lived in Valencia?
4.- Have we traveled to Margarita?
5.- Has she studied in Mérida?

Exercise C.- Give your own answers.

1.- What have you done today?
2.- Who has spoken to you?
3.- Where have you gone this week?
4.- Where have you had breakfast lately?
5.- Why has she spoken to you?

(PART. III)

FUNCTION: Warnings

Watch out!
Look out!
Watch your step.
Be careful.
Hold it!
Don't ever do that again!
Listen to me, if you don't change your behavior...
You'd better mind my words.
The last time I tell you not to ...

Lesson Eleven 11

Eleventh (11th) Lesson.

(PART. I)

WHY EXERCISE?

Present day living is the enemy of the human body. When our ancestors came down from the trees a million or two years ago, they lived an active hunting life, running to catch their food, fighting off predators, struggling to keep warm at night. Modern cities make no such demands on us.Many of us ride to work in our cars or on public transport, work all day at a desk, then slouch in front of the television at night. It's not surprising that our bodies become flabby, stiff and fat.

So the main reason for improving your.physical fitness is simply to get more Joy out of life. Your body was meant to be used, and when you have given it back its strength and vitality, you will develop a happier, more confident out-look on life as a whole.

The other reason for physical exercise is more sobering. Just as when you leave your car in the garage and don't take it out for a regular spin, the tires go flat, the body work rusts and the battery runs down, so the body that is not exercised begins to degenerate. Unfit, overweight people have a greater than average chance of arthritis, breathing trouble, low back pain and accidents. And there is a lot of evidence that people who do not exercise have a greater chance of developing one of the big killers of our time -heart- disease and high blood pressure.
Unfit people only live half a life and all too often it ends abruptly...

Answer:

1.- How can we enjoy a better life?

_____

2.- Why didn't pre-historic men need additional physical exercise?

_____

3.- Does physical exercise have anything to do with the length of your life? Explain.

_____

4.- What are the dangers of overweight?

_____

Give your own answers.

1.- Do you often take physical exercise?

_____

2.- What kind of exercise do you prefer?

_____

3.- Do you care for sports?

_____

4.- Do you practice sports or just watch them on T.V.?

_____

5.- Do you think that the Olympic Games promote world peace and understanding?

_____

6.- What are some of your favorite Olympic events?

_____

(PART. II)

YOU CAN'T WIN THEM ALL

Robert Brown and his girlfriend Ann play tennis twice a week.

Ann: Hello?

Robert: Hello, is Ann there?

Ann: This is Ann.

Robert: Hi, Ann. This is Robert.

Ann: Oh, Robert. Nice to hear your voice.

Robert: Well, I just called to see if you'd like to play tennis this afternoon.

Ann: Oh, sure. I'd love to. I'll see you at the club at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Robert: By the way, did you go to the club yesterday?

Ann: Yes, I did. And I played against Laura Adams. You know, that nice blonde we met at Lou's party. She's really good.

Robert: So she beat you.

Ann: No, incredible as it may sound, she didn't win...I did!

Robert: No kidding?

Ann: No kidding at all. But things were really hard. She was ahead by three games and ... suddenly the lights went out! We had to wait for about half an hour to complete the first set.

Robert: And then what happened?

Ann: She finally took the first set 6-2.

Robert: That wasn't a good start for you.

Ann: It really wasn't. But her happiness didn't last very long. I rushed her and didn't let her think. Her shots started going wild, she got nervous and you see the result, I won the other two sets.

Robert: She didn't seem to be playing just for the fun of it.

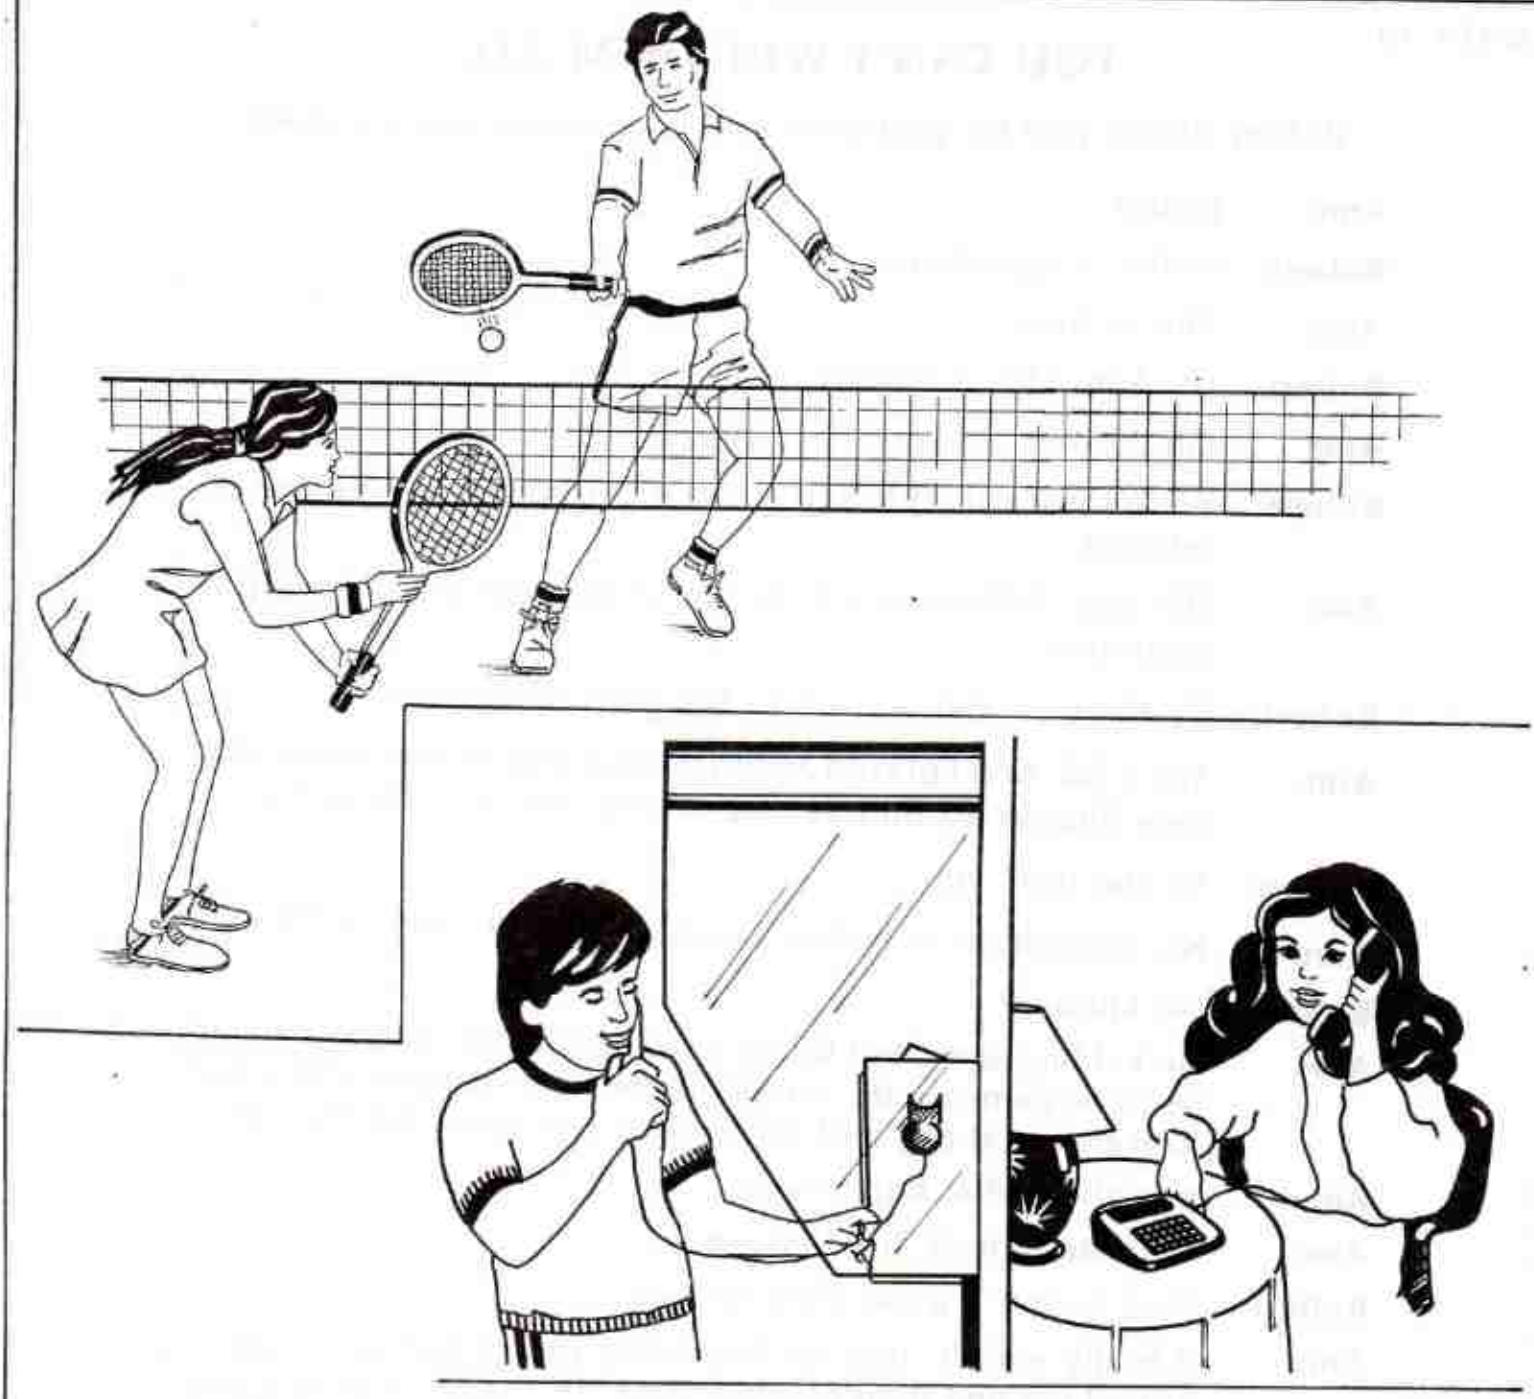

Ann: That's right. She took it very seriously.

Robert: How about you? I bet you like to win too.

Ann: Yes, but I'm not the competitive type. I wouldn't get angry if I lost a set or a tournament.

Robert: Well... good for you. See you later.

Ann: O.K.

Write questions to the following set of answers:

1.- They play tennis two times a week.

_____

2.- At 5 o'clock.

_____

3.- Yes, she went to the club yesterday.

_____

4.- She's blonde.

_____

5.- Ann won the match.

_____

6.- Because the lights went out.

_____

7.- No, she wouldn't get angry if she lost.

_____

(PART. III)

FUNCTION: Advising.

1.- How to give positive advice:

I've been putting on weight.

- Well why don't you eat less?
- I'd advise you to eat more vegetables and less fat.
- Well, if I were you, I'd exercise.

2.- How to give tentative advice:

I've been losing weight

- Well, it might be a good idea to eat more.
- Perhaps you should eat more fatty foods.
- You could consider going to a nutritionist.

3.- How to decline to give advice:

I want to quit smoking

- I'm afraid I can't really help you. I'm trying to quit smoking myself.
- I wish I could suggest something, but I can't.
- I don't know what to advice, I'm afraid.

Lesson Twelve 12

(PART. I)

Twelfth (12th) Lesson.

DOCTORS' WARNING: «STOP SMOKING OR ELSE»...

If you´re really serious about getting fit, with all the benefits that it brings, there is one thing you will have to give up: Smoking.

There´s no painless or effortless way to stop smoking, but linking it to your efforts to keep fit gives you a positive excuse to kick the habit once and for all.

Few smokers who quit on a sudden impulse ever succeed. A similar impulse occurs and they start smoking again. Usually, to be successful, a really conscious effort is needed. in the time for that conscious effort. Now with good health as your goal.

Remember:

* Cigarettes are dangerous. Medical research has proved it.
* Smoking reduces your ability to do vigorous exercise.
* Cigarettes cause bronchitis and increase the risk of coronay heart disease and emphysema.
* Cigarettes may complicate pregnancy.

Draw up a 'stop smoking action plan' to run alongside your efforts to get fit.

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

Underline the word in parenthesis which completes the meaning of the sentence.

1.- If you want to get and keep fit, you should not (run-eat-sweat-smoke)
2.- When you give up doing something, you (stop-start-continue-sweat-smoke) doing it.
3.- Women are advised not to smoke because medical research has found that cigarettes may cause (pain-pleasure-harm-bronchitis) to the fetus.
4.- For most smokers, to stop smoking is not (easy-hard-dangerous-healthy)

Give your own answer.

1.- Do you smoke?

_____

2.- Would you like your children to smoke?

_____

3.- Why is it necessary to stop smoking if you want to keep fit?

_____

4.- Are you in favor of or against cigarette advertising on television? Why?

_____

5.- Will you allow other people to smoke when they are near you? Give reasons to support your answer.

(PART. II)

DO YOU MIND IF I SMOKE?

Peggy: It's twelve thirty, It´s time to go to lunch.

Jane: Yes.Let's stop working and go to the cafeteria downstairs.

Peggy: What would you like to eat?

Jane: I only want a plain hamburguer. I really shouldn´t eat too much.

Peggy: Are you on a diet?

Jane: No, I just want to be a little careful. By the way, I have to ask you something.

Peggy: What is it?

Jane: Are you going to smoke?

Peggy: Why do you ask?

Jane: Well, I couldn´t sit with a person who smokes. I´m sorry, but I just couldn´t.

Peggy: What's the matter with you? Oh, I see. You must've given up smoking! Is that it?

Jane: Yes, I haven't smoked for a week.

Peggy: Well, good for you! Smoking is really harmful for your health. I think I'll try to give it up too.

Jane: There's only one way to give it up and that's just stop.

Peggy: Yes, you're right. But can I have at least one last cigarrette?

Jane: Oh, no. If you don't do it now, you never will.

Peggy: All right. Let's go. I hope there aren't going to be a lot of people smoking in the cafeteria.

Jane: We shouldn´t sit near the smokers. That's all.

(PART. III)

Composition Exercise

Write a dialogue between a habitual drinker and his wife, each one defending his point of view. (See function below)

FUNCTION: Arguing

a) I insist...
b) There's no doubt that...
c) Sorry, but...
d) You may have a point, but...
e) Don't be silly.. I can't accept...
f) That's nonsense...
g) I can't possibly agree with you
h) I really can't agree with you, are you crazy?
i) You've got to be kidding.
j) You can't be serious...
k) Come on, that's ridiculous.

Lesson Thirteen 13

(PART. I) Thirteenth (13th) Lesson.

HOW TO GET A SOCIAL SECURITY CARD

To get a Social Segurity card, you must fill out a form. You get this form at a Social Security Administration Office. To find out where the office closest to you is located, you can look under S in the white pages of your phone book.

When you get a form, you will also get directions telling you how to fill it out. You should read all the directions carefully before you begin. If you have any questions, you can call the Social Security office.

Look at the Social Security Application. You will be filling out this form by following these directions. Before you begin, there are two things you should know. First, if you do not know the answer to a question , write unknown in the space. Second, print your answers using a pen with dark blue or black ink.

Instructions:

Section 1:
Print your name on the first line. If your name is different now than when you were born, print the full name you were given at birth on the second line of the section. The third line is for any name you have used other than the two you have already given. Do not put nicknames on this line

Section 2:
Print the address where you want the number card to be sent.

Section 3:
Check ( ) the box that describes you.

Section 4:
Check one box.

Section 5:
Check the box that describes you. Notice the word voluntary at the top of this section. Voluntary means you do not have to fill in this section if you don't want.

Section 6:
Fill in the month, day and year on which you were born. This should all be done with numbers.

Section 7:
Fill in the age you are today.

Section 8:
In the first box, print the name of the city where you were born and the name of the state where you were born in the box next to that. If you were not born in the United States, give the name of the country where you were born. Write whole words, not shortened forms.

Section 9:
Print the full name your mother was given at her birth on the line of section. On the second line, fill in your father's full name.

Section 10:
If you were to fill out this form to get a new card because you lost yours or changed your name, you would check the box next to Yes, then you must fill in the rest of Section 10. If you marked No, then you go on the Section 11.

Section 11:
Fill in today's date.

Section 12:
Fill in a phone number where you could be reached if the people of the Social Security office needed to speak to you.

Section 13:
Sign your name the way you usually write it.

Section 14:
If you have filled this form out for yourself, check the box next to self. It you have filled it out for someone else, mark the box next to other, and specify how are related to the person you have filled out the form for.

FORM SS-5 – APPLICATION FOR A SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBER CARD (Original, Replacement or Correction)

INSTRUCTIONS TO APPLICANT ▶ Before completing this form, please read the instructions on the opposite page. Type or print, using pen with dark blue or black ink. Do not use pencil. SEE PAGE 1 FOR REQUIRED EVIDENCE.

NAA NAME TO BE SHOWN ON CARD — First | Middle | Last

NAB 1 FULL NAME AT BIRTH (IF OTHER THAN ABOVE) — First | Middle | Last

ONA OTHER NAME(S) USED

STT 2 MAILING ADDRESS (Street/Apt. No., P.O. Box, Rural Route No.)

CTY CITY (Do not abbreviate) | STE STATE | ZIP ZIP CODE

CSP 3 CITIZENSHIP (Check one only)
- a. U.S. citizen
- b. Legal alien allowed to work
- c. Legal alien not allowed to work
- d. Other (See instructions on Page 2)

SEX 4 SEX
- MALE
- FEMALE

ETB 5 RACE/ETHNIC DESCRIPTION (Check one only) (Voluntary)
- a. Asian, Asian-American or Pacific Islander (includes persons of Chinese, Filipino, Japanese, Korean, Samoan, etc., ancestry or descent)
- b. Hispanic (includes persons of Chicano, Cuban, Mexican or Mexican-American, Puerto Rican, South or Central American, or other Spanish ancestry or descent)
- c. Negro or Black (not Hispanic)
- d. Northern American Indian or Alaskan Native
- e. White (not Hispanic)

DOB 6 DATE OF BIRTH ▶ MONTH | DAY | YEAR — AGE 7 — PRESENT AGE — PLB 8 PLACE OF BIRTH ▶ CITY (Do not abbreviate) | STATE OR FOREIGN COUNTRY (Do not abbreviate) | * FCI

MNA 9 MOTHER'S NAME AT HER BIRTH — First | Middle | Last (Her maiden name)

FNA FATHER'S NAME — First | Middle | Last

PNO 10
- a. Has a Social Security number card ever been requested for the person listed in item 1? ☐ YES(2) ☐ NO(1) ☐ Don't know(1)
- b. Was a card received for the person listed in item 1? ☐ YES(3) ☐ NO(1) ☐ Don't know(1)

▶ IF YOU CHECKED YES TO A OR B, COMPLETE ITEMS C THROUGH E; OTHERWISE GO TO ITEM 11.

SSN c. Enter the Social Security number assigned to the person listed in item 1. ☐☐☐-☐☐-☐☐☐☐

NLC d. Enter the name shown on the most recent Social Security card issued for the person listed in item 1.

PDB e. Date of birth correction (See instruction 10 on page 2) ▶ MONTH | DAY | YEAR

DON 11 TODAY'S DATE ▶ MONTH | DAY | YEAR

12 Telephone number where we can reach you during the day. Please include the area code ▶ HOME | OTHER

ASD WARNING: Deliberately furnishing (or causing to be furnished) false information on this application is a crime punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both.

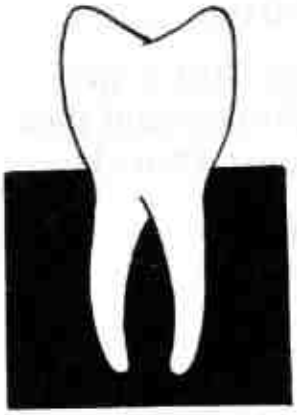

IMPORTANT REMINDER: WE CANNOT PROCESS THIS APPLICATION WITHOUT THE REQUIRED EVIDENCE. SEE PAGE 1

13 YOUR SIGNATURE

14 YOUR RELATIONSHIP TO PERSON IN ITEM 1
☐ Self ☐ Other (Specify) _____

WITNESS (Needed only if signed by mark "X") | WITNESS (Needed only if signed by mark "X")

(PART. II)

AT THE DENTIST'S

June Parker has had a bad toothache for a couple of days. Then she decides to see Doctor Wilson.

Doctor Wilson: Come in, Miss Parker.

June: Am I late for my appointment?

Doctor Wilson: Just a little bit, but it´s all right.

June: I'm very sorry. It's hard to find a place to park around here.

Dr. Wilson: O.K. What seems to be the trouble,, Miss Parker?

June: I'm afraid a filling dropped out and I have a soreness around the tooth.

Dr. Wilson: Open your mouth wide, please. Show me exactly the area of your mouth you say hurts you.

June: It's on the right side. The pain comes and goes, sometimes it is in one place and sometimes in another.

Dr. Wilson: Let's see. The tooth seems to be sound. I don't think it's anything serious. Anyway we'd better take an X-ray just to be sure.

Dr. Wilson: Now let's take a look at the filling. Yes, you were right. It isn't there and there's also a slight cavity on the back side of the tooth.

June: Oh, no! I don't want the tooth pulled out.

Dr. Wilson: Don't worry. It won't be necessary. But it may need some drilling. We'll start right now and then I'll give you an appointment for next Thursday.

June: All right. I'm, ready. Ouch! Ouch!

Answer:

1.- Why did June visit Dr Wilson?

_____

2.- Why did she apologize to him?

_____

3.- What caused the pain in her mouth?

_____

4.- How can the dentist make sure it's nothing serious?

_____

5.- Will she have the tooth pulled out?

_____

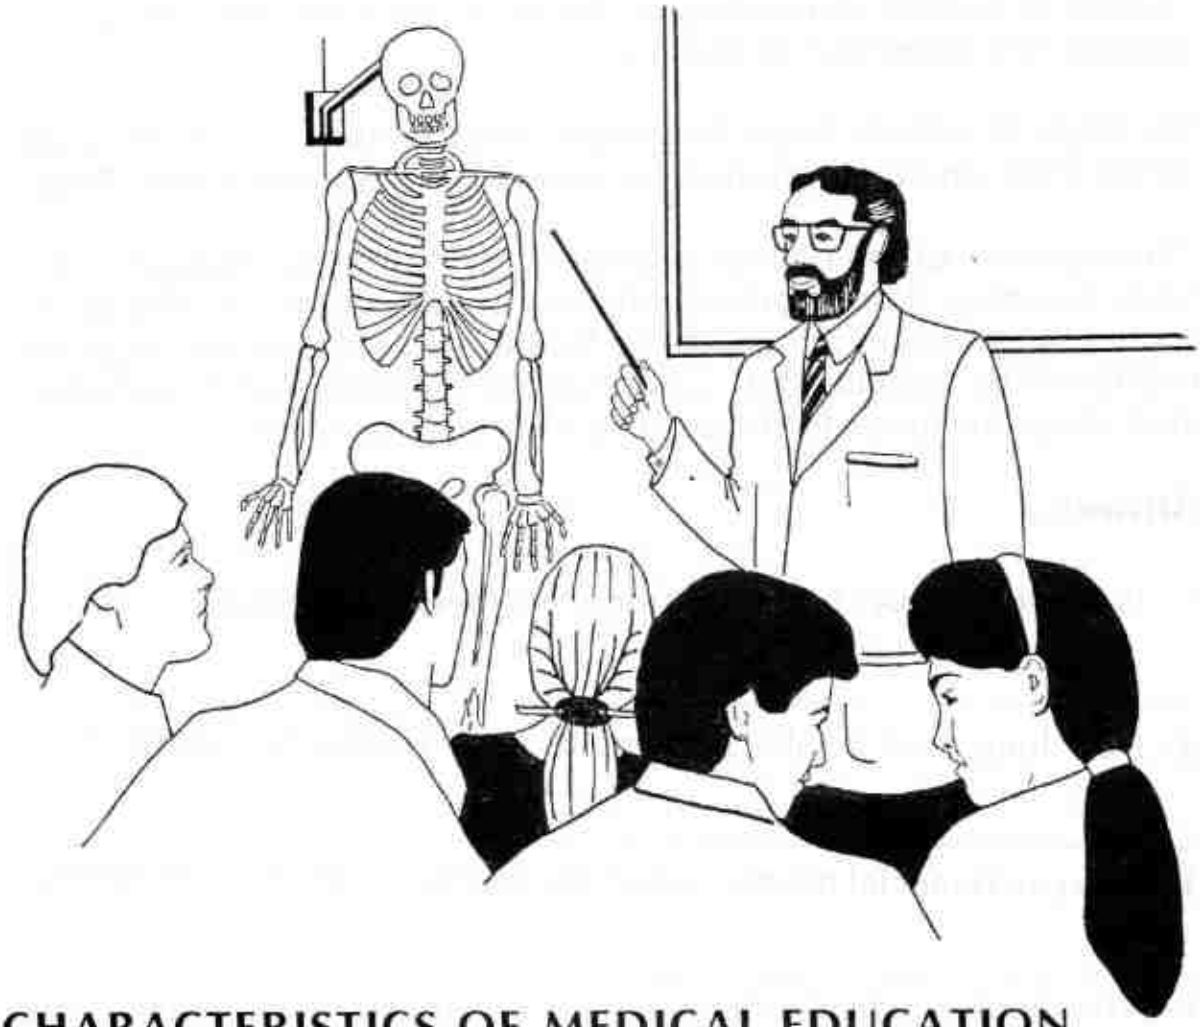

6.- When will she see Dr. Wilson again?

_____

Lesson Fourteen 14

(PART. I)

Fourteenth (14th) Lesson.

CHARACTERISTICS OF MEDICAL EDUCATION

The distinctive feature of medical education is how completely theoretical and scientific knowledge is fused with the results derived from experience. It must be remembered that the clinical teacher has an inmediate reponsibility to his patients as well as to his students. This double load of theory and practice is particularly heavier when great advances are being made in medical science.

In most countries students must complete a four-or five-year medical education in order to obtain the license to practice. After that, in the present conditions, a practitioner of any branch of medicine needs at least four years to complete reasonably adequate training.

The premedical courses required in most countries are in the subjects of physics, chemistry and biology. Graduation from a recognized secondary school is required. Each of the courses should include laboratory periods of from two hours to six hours a week for a full academic year. However, the extent of the student's familiarity with the use of instruments and laboratory procedures varies widely from country to country depending on the funds each country can use to support this expensive instruction.

The medical schools begin their work with the study of the structure of the body and its formation: anatomy, histology and embryology.

The sequence of the courses and the emphasis the schools give certain areas may differ from country to country, but medical schools should by all means adhere to the following basic pursuits: superior quality of the teaching staff, a high ratio of teaching staff to students, and adequate funds for laboratory work and research.

Answer:

1.- Is medical education based only on theory and science?

2.- How long does it take students to get a license to practice?

3.- How can financial matters affect the quality of medical education?

4.- Why should medical schools be very careful about the selection of teaching staff?

(PART. II)

APPENDICITIS

At home:

Mr. Harris: Hi, honey. I'm back from work.

Cindy: Hi, darling. What's wrong with you?. You look so pale and tired.

Mr. Harris: Oh, I don't know. About two hours ago I began to feel awful. I've got awful pains in my belly.

Cindy: You have to see a doctor at once. Let me take you to the hospital.

At the hospital:

Dr. Kramer: Hello, I'm Dr. Kramer. What seems to be the trouble? What brings you to the emergency room?

Mr. Harris: It's this awful pain in my belly.

Dr. Kramer: When did this pain start?

Mr. Harris: This morning. Up here, but now it's here, and it really hurts.

Dr. Kramer: How was it this morning?

Mr. Harris: Well, it wasn't really very bad. The pain came and went, and I did some work in my office, but now I can't stand it any more. It's killing me.

Dr. Kramer: Have you lost your appetite?

Mr. Harris: Oh, sure. I haven't had anything to eat since yesterday evening. I couldn't even look at or smell food.

Dr. Kramer: Have you had any bowel movements?

Mr. Harris: Not for two days.

Dr. Kramer: Would you say this is normal?

Mr. Harris: No, as a rule I have one every day.

Dr. Kramer: Any diarrehea?

Mr. Harris: No.

Dr. Kramer: How about nausea and vomiting?

Mr. Harris: Last night it was really bad. I was vomiting about every two hours. It's a little better now. Oh, oh, it's coming again.

Dr. Kramer: Nurse, please help us. This seems to be a case of appendicitis.

Give your own answers.

1.- Have you ever had an X-ray? Explain.

2.- Have you ever fractured a bone?. If so, when and where?

3.- Have you ever had an accident or felt ill during a holiday? What happened?

4.- How did if affect your vacation?

_____

5.- Were you insured against illness and accident?

_____

Complete the following dialogue:

Doctor: You don't look very well today.

You: _____

Doctor: What seems to be the trouble?

You: _____

Doctor: I see. Do you smoke?

You: _____

Doctor: How often do you exercise?

You: _____

Doctor: How is your appetite. Do you eat well?

You: _____

Doctor: You seem a little overweight. Roll up your sleeve. I want to check you blood pressure. Your blood pressure is down. That's good, but you really should lose some weight.

You: _____

Doctor: Fine, Does your knee or ankle swell?

You: _____

Doctor: I think you are suffering from arthritis, but it's nothing serious. Take these pills every six hours for a month. In this sheet of paper you will find some recommendation you should follow, come to my office in two weeks.

(PART. III)

FUNCTION: Talk About Health Problems

1.-Talking about health problems:

- What's the matter?	I've got a headache.
- What's wrong?	I have a cold.
- How do you feel?	I feel much better.
- Does it hurt?	My shoulder hurts.
- How are you feeling?	I'm feeling sick.

2.-Giving advice on health problems:

- I have a sore throat	You should see a doctor.
- I have a toothache	Make an appointment with your dentist.
- I have got the flue.	Take this medicine..
- I have a fever	Why don't you go to the doctor?
- I feel awful.	You'd better stay in bed.

Lesson Fifteen 15

(PART. I)

Fifteenth (15th) Lesson.

IN NEED OF ADVICE

Dear counselor: Three years ago I sold my home in California and moved to Rhode Island to be with my son. His wife suddenly left him and their two little girls, who were 10 and 14.

Three months after I arrived, my son was stricken with a heart attack and died. His wife came to the funeral and we had a talk about the girls. She said she was not able to take care of them and that I could do whatever I wished, as long as I didn't let them become wards of the state. I decided to move back to California and take the girls with me.

I have raised seven children, incluiding two sets of twins. I still have a 31-years-old handicapped daughter at home. My little granddaughters are lovely. I can't understand why their mother refuses to make an effort to keep them with her.

Nearly every week she writes telling them how much she loves them. This really burns me up. The woman has made no effort what so ever to support them. The entire burden has been on me.

Do you feel that I should allow this derelict mother to continue to write these letters? Please advise-Resentful mother- in-law.

Dear Resentful: Your granddaughters need all the love they can get. Even though their mother abandoned them, she may still care deeply. Please find it in your heart to forgive the woman and allow her to maintain this bridge. Bridges are far better than walls.

Answer:

1) When did the lady sell her house in California?

_____

2) Why did she move to live with her son and two grand-daughters?

_____

3) What happened three months after her arrival?

4) Why did the mother-in-law agree to keep the girls with her?

5) Did she resent having to take care of her grand-daughters?

6) What did she complain about?

7) What was the counselor's advice?

8) Would you have forgiven the woman? Give reasons to support your answer.

A year passed. The girls' mother came back and said she was ready to take them to live with her for good. Her mother-in-law couldn't help remembering the woman had abandoned her daughters without giving any acceptable reason.

What do you think «resentful» should do? Take stand.

1) Blame her for it and not let her have the girls back.

2) Forgive her and let her have the girls back?

3) Forgive her and not let her have the girls back?

4) Let the girls decide whether they're willing to go back to their mother or stay with her.

5) Other: _____

Discuss the problem with your teacher in a conversation group.

(PART. II)

HELP ME MAKE UP MY MIND

Susan Black has been working in a travel agency where she has gained a lot of experience in dealing with people and in helping them to solve problems related to their traveling plans. She has also been learning Spanish and improving her German.

Now she thinks she is ready to start a new career as a flight attendent Though she had made up her mind, she asked some relatives and friends. They all had different points of view about her decision.

HER MOTHER

Susan: Mon, what would you think if I told you I intend to get a job as flight attendent?

Her mother: Well, if I were you, I would.

Susan: Oh, mom, you're not kidding.

Her mother: No, I'm not. Look, I've been married since I was nineteen, and what have I done with my life? All the time doing the same old thing, cooking, cleaning and running errands.

Susan: But you've visited some foreign countries.

Her mother: That´s different. I had to travel with a family. Have a good time while you can.

HER AUNT

Aunt: Susie, I heard you were looking for a job in an airline... as a flight attendent.

Susan: I was about to tell you about it. I need your opinion.

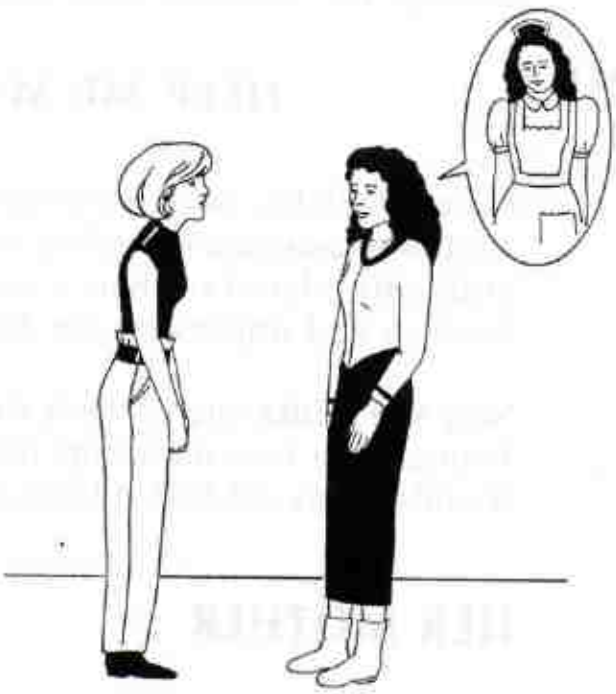

Aunt: I think it's not a bad idea. You'll certainly see quite a large bit of the world.

Susan: Would you say this is the right time for me to do it?

Aunt: Well, that's the problem. Why don't you wait until you get a little more experience?

Susan: All right. I'll think it over.

HER BEST FRIEND

Susan: Barbara, I know you worked as a flight attendent three years ago.

Barbara: Yes, but fortunately I gave it up.

Susan: Why fortunately?

Barbara: Well you know ... everybody thinks that's a glamorous life, but as a matter of fact I was a flying waitress and nursemaid!

Susan: Are you serious?

Barbara: I couldn't be more serious. It's not the sort of job I would like for my daughter.

Susan: Oh, no!

(PART. III)

FUNCTION: Giving Advice.

Giving advice:

A.- Advice:

a) Have you ever thought ... ing?

B.- Respond:

a) Yes, I have but ...

b) Why don't you ...
c) It might be a good idea to ...
d) It seems to me that you should...
e) You'd better...

b) Would you? Why?
c) Why do you say that?
d) Really? Why?
e) Do you really think so?

Writing a Dialogue

A gardener found a bag full of money while he was working in your garden. Give each other advice about what you think you two should do with the money.

Lesson Sixteen 16

Sixteenth (16th) Lesson.

(PART. I)

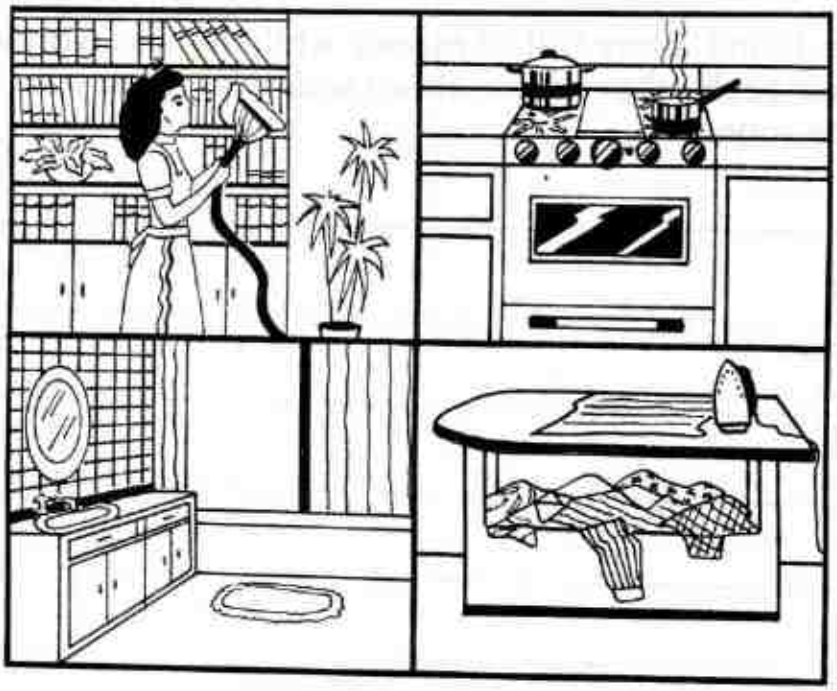

HOUSEKEEPING

Twenty years ago most women stayed home and spent their lives caring for children and running a household. Daily chores like cleaning, washing dishes and cooking took the best part of their lives.

Today most of the women work either full or part time outside of their homes. Families are smaller and there are more labor-saving appliances.

According to a poll conducted by the Gallup Organization, washing dishes is the most hated task of all women. The second most hated task in housekeeping is cleaning the bathrooms, third ironing and fourth scrubbing floors.

Women in the western states don't like vacuuming. Women in The central states hate dusting. Non graduate women hate cooking, but they don't mind dusting and ironing.

Gallup's Poll Results (most hated housekeeping tasks):

ESCALATING CHART

WASHING DISHES	47%
CLEANING BATHROOMS	40%
IRONING CLOTHES	33%
SCRUBBING FLOORS	29%
CLEANING	25%
VACUUMING	21%
COOKING	16%

Exercises:

Make a pooll, ask women from different cultural levels their opinion about household tasks.

Compare with your classmate polls, discuss and express the results in an escalating chart, under the guidance of your teacher.

Decide whether the following statements are TRUE or FALSE.

1.- Most women hate cooking. _____

2.- Labor-saving appliances enable many women to work out of their homes._____

3.- Twenty years ago women had little time for caring for children._____

4.- According to the Gallup's Poll results, most women prefer washing dishes than cooking._____

(PART. II)

ARE WE EXPENDING OUR MONEY WISELY?

Mr. Smith: I'd like to talk to both of you about the money situation in our family. I make good money and you two spend it all.

Sally: Look, Dad, I really think this is ridiculous. You make so much money, you don't know how to spend it.

Mrs. Smith: The prices have really gone up in the last year. You don't buy food for this family, I do. And I know how much things cost.

Mr. Smith: I want each one of us to keep a record of everything that we pay for.

Sally: I'm not going to do that!

Mrs. Smith: We can't do that!

Mr. Smith: I insist on it. I'm not throwing my money away anymore.

Sally: What would you do with it anyway? You can't eat it. What are you going to do? When you die you can't take it with you.

Mrs. Smith: And you don't know how much prices have increased, you don't give me half enough to support this family.

Sally: Why don't you make more money if you're so worried about it.

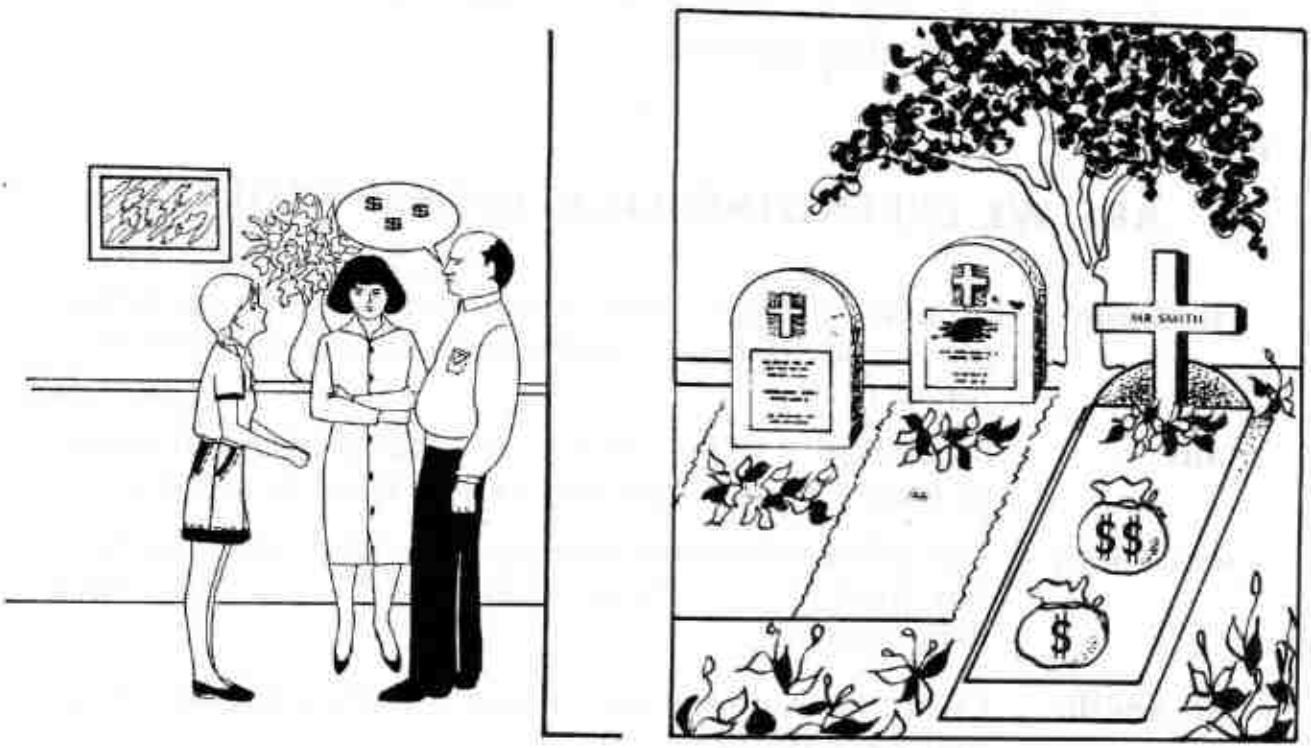

Mrs. Smith: I have to buy groceries every month and you don't give me enough.

Mr. Smith: How much more money do you want?

Mrs. Smith: At least twice as much. Have you looked at the prices recently?

Mr. Smith: You can't have twice as much money.

Sally: Oh, here he goes again.

Answer:

1.- Do they belong to a poor family?

2.- Why does Mrs. Smith need more money for food?

_____

3.- Do the women agree to keep a record of all expenses?

_____

4.- What is the man reluctant to continue doing?

_____

5.- Does Mrs. Smith accept her husband's reasons?

_____

6.- What does Sally advise her father to do?

_____

7.- How much more money does Mrs. Smith expect to get from her husband?

_____

(PART. III)

FUNCTION: Arguing

You don't have any idea about it.

I think this is ridiculous.

I know what's good for us.

I'm not going to do that.

We can't do that...

It's no use trying to make you understand.

You must be out your mind.

Who do you think you're speaking to...

Here you go again...

It's useless to talk to people like you.

Write a short dialogue (about 10 lines).

Tom, 15 year old boy, is trying to convice Robert, his father, to increase his weekly allowance.

Lesson Seventeen 17

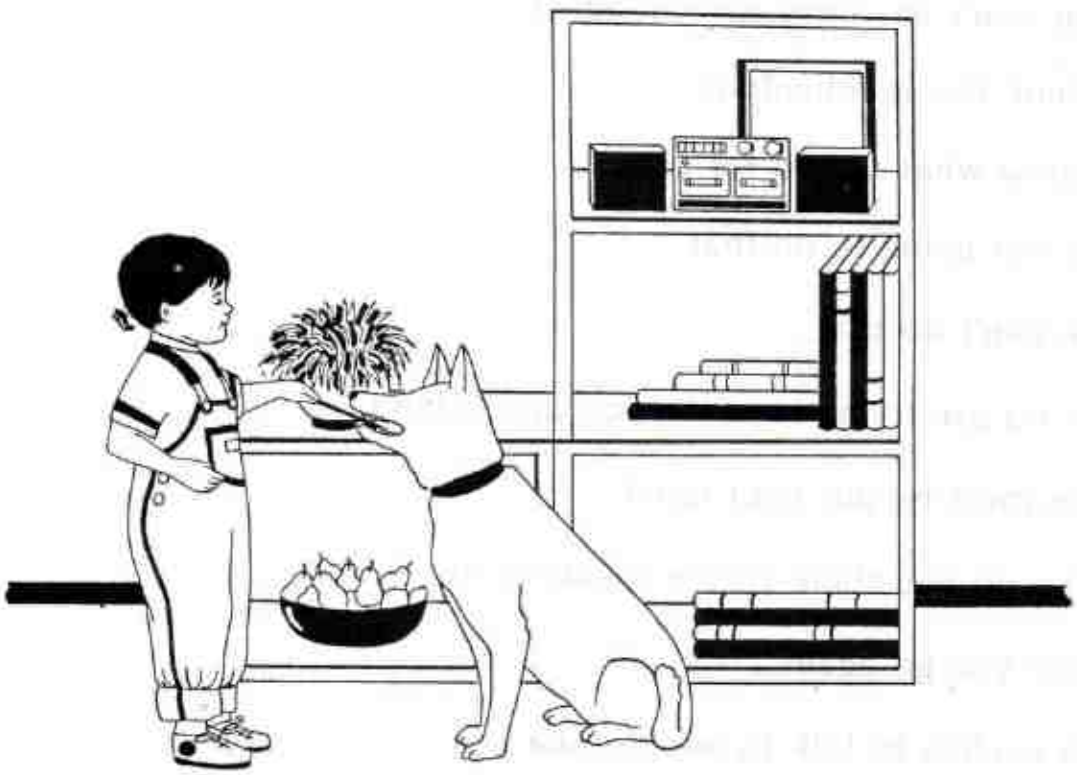

(PART. I)

Seventeenth (17th) Lesson.

WHAT CAN YOU DO ABOUT ATWO YEAR OLD CHILD?

Parents of two year-old-children constantly struggle, searching for ways to survive that turbulent period known as the «terrible-two's».

When your own two-year-old misbehaves, it's usually because of his natural curiosity. It isn't cruelty that causes him to thrust a pencil deep into the dog's nostril, but a genuine desire to find out how you'll react.

As a guide to parents we recommend the following graded threat sequence:

1.- You're going to get hurt or hurt somebody else.

2.- You're going to make me very angry.

3.- You're going straight to your room.

4.- I'm going to tell your father.

5.- I'm going to tell Santa Claus.

6.- I'm not going to give you any candy.

7.- I'm very angry now.

8.- I'm going to give you a good smack.

9.- I mean it.

10.- I really mean it.

11.- I'm not kidding.

12.- (SMACK)

A TWO YEAR OLD IN A PLANE

The stewardess had a terrible time on a trip across the country. There was bad weather and the passengers were complaining.

There was a two year old child running up and down the aisle shouting and hitting people and making all sorts of noises. As he was running, he knocked the stewardess almost into the lap of a gentleman. The stewardess smile quietly and whispered in the child's ear:

«Little boy, why don't you go and play outside?»

Answer:

1.- What sort of trouble was the stewardess having?

2.- Why did the passengers feel annoyed?

3.- Who is to blame for the child's misbehavior?

4.- Why do you think she told the child to go outside and play?

Give your own answers.

1) What threat do you usually use with your children, (if you have any)?

2) Discuss with your classmates, the most appropiate way to discipline a small child.

3) What would you do in case of a real discipline emergency?

4) How is curiosity different from misbehavior?

5) Were you curious as a child? What kind of trouble did your curiosity get you into?

(PART. II)

MOM, I WANT TO GO OUT

Billy: Mom.

Mrs. White: Yes, Billy?

B: I don't feel like doing homework.

Mrs. W: Well that's something you have to do, so you'd better start right now.

B: Oh, I've finished for tonight.

Mrs. W: What are you doing now?

B: Nothing. I'd like to go out and ride my bike.

Mrs. W: No, it's too late, it's quite dark.

B: I wish it was summer, so that I could go out after I've finished my homework.

Mrs. W: It will be summer sooner than you think, and please stop making that noise with your feet.

B: I wish I could find something to do.

Mrs. W: It's a pity you don't collect stamps any more.

B: I got tired of sticking little pieces of paper in an album.

Mrs. W: I bought that album for you because you kept asking for it. I wish I hadn't bought it.

B: I'm sorry, mom. But I just want to do something different.

Mrs. W: O.K. Billy, I understand. Why don't you join the Boy Scouts?

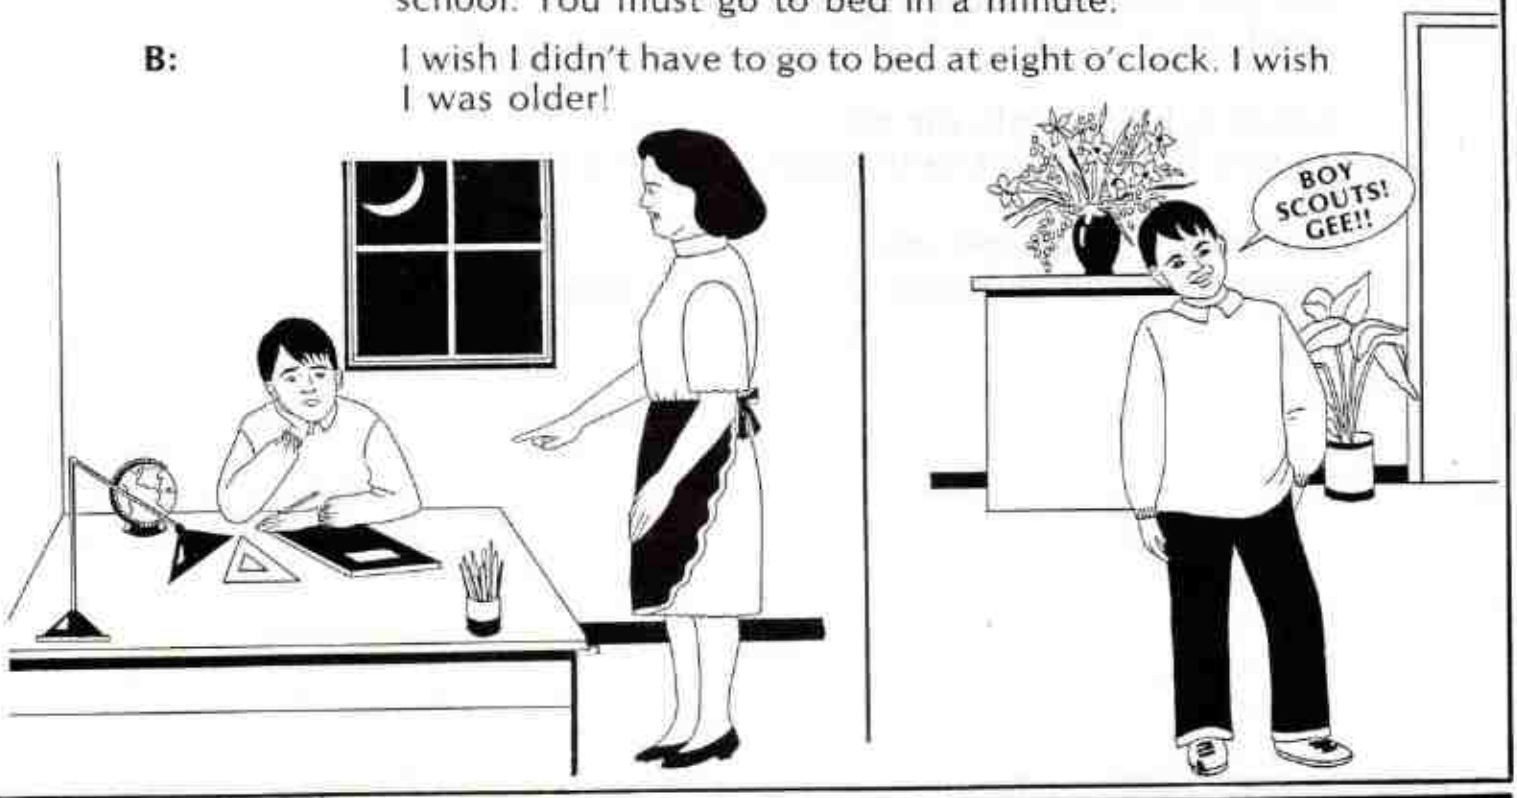

B: Gee! Are you sure I can?

Mrs. W: Quite sure. See the Scoutmaster about it tomorrow.

B: Can I go out and tell my friend Jack?

Mrs. W: No, Billy, It's too late. Tell him about it tomorrow at school. You must go to bed in a minúte.

B: I wish I didn't have to go to bed at eight o'clock. I wish I was older!

(PART. III)

Decide whether the following statements are TRUE or FALSE.

1. Billy feels happy about his homework. _____
2. He cannot ride his bike because it's cold outside. _____
3. Billy used to collect stamps but he doesn't like it any more. _____
4. His father gave him a stamp album. _____
5. His mother suggests that he becomes a boy scout. _____
6. Billy was allowed to go out and tell his friend Jack about his decision. _____

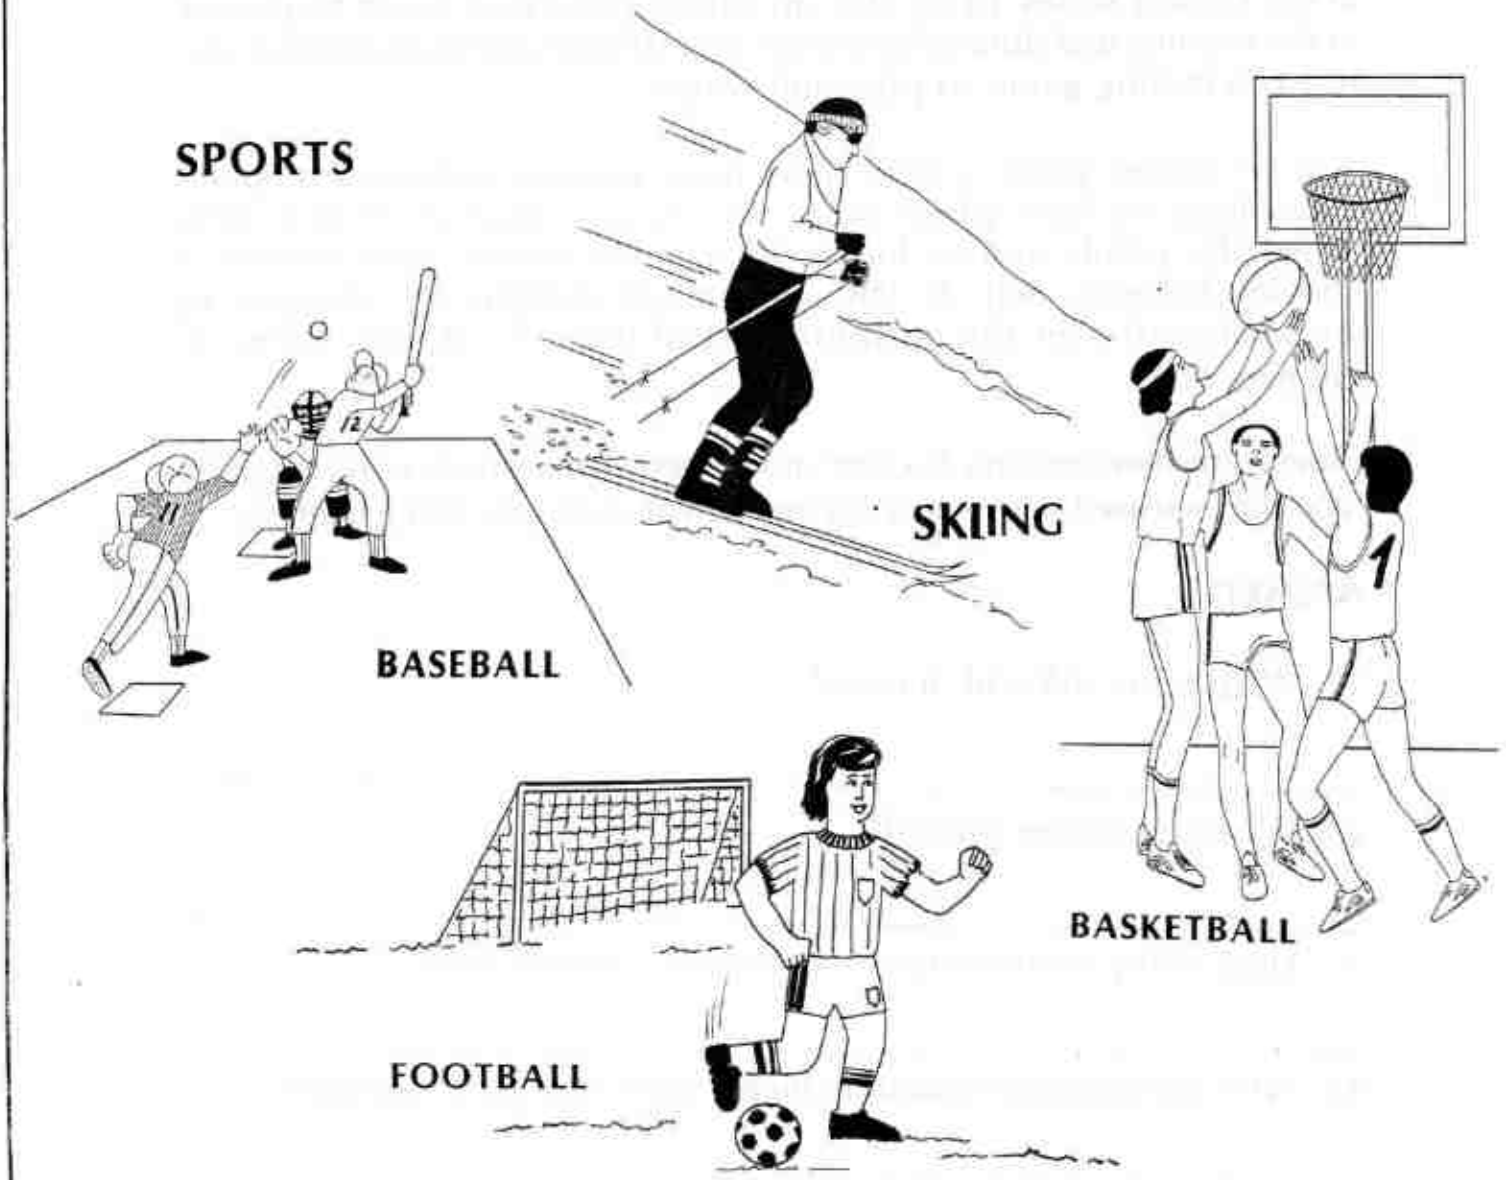

FUNCTIONS: Permission

Mom, may (can) I go out?	- Not until you finish you homework.
Would you let me watch T.V.?	- I will if you clean your room.
Do you mind if I close the window?	- Not at all.
Could it be possible for me to turn in the report next week?	- It's O.K. with me.
I wonder if I can see you again tomorrow morning.	- Sure, why not?

Lesson Eighteen 18

(PART. I)

Eighteenth (18th) Lesson.

Baseball is the people's favorite sport in the United States. Little boys play baseball in parks and empty lots, in streets and alleys. Soccer, on the other hand, is preferred by most people in Europe and in most of Latin American countries.

Officially, the baseball season goes from April to September. At the end of the season when the two top teams play against each other to find the winner of the «World Series», excitement and tension rise in cities all over the country. Fans make long trips to watch the games and to shout from their seats in the bleachers.

Football, which begins its season in Autumn, attracts greater crowds at each game than baseball. There are many huge stadiums throughout the country, some seating 100,000 and more.

Basketball season follows football season. The game was invented in the United States, to provide an indoor game that could be played in the evening and during the winter. Its fast play and high scores make it a fascinating game to play and watch.

Just in recent years, winter sport have become extremely popular. Cities have ice rinks where skaters can keep in practice all year round when the ponds are no longer frozen. Ski resorts have become a thriving business, and ski lifts, once a real novelty, are springing up on slopes all over the northern part of the U.S., Where show can be expected.

Americans have certainly become more interested in sports in recent years and the increased sale of sporting equipment shows the rising interest.

Answer:

1) What's the «World Series»?

_____

2) Where is soccer played?

_____

3) How many months does the baseball season take?

_____

4) Why are football stadiums bigger than baseball stadiums?

_____

5) Why can people play basketball in the winter?

_____

6) What makes it possible to skate in the summer?

_____

(PART. II)

GOING TO A BALL GAME

Mr. George Bates takes his daughter Vicky to a baseball game.

George: Will you hurry up, Vicky? The game has already started.

Vicky: It's not my fault if we're late. It's taken you a long time to park the car.

George: O.K. Let's hurry. Our seats are over there.

Vicky: You know I can't sit in the sun. It isn't good for my complexion.

George: You won't have to sit in the sun. Our seats are in the grandstand.

Vicky: Do you usually sit in the grandstand?

George: No, I'd rather sit in the bleachers. It's cheaper. Hey, look at those two seats behind the home plate.

Vicky: Well, here we are. I hope you will tell me about the game.

George: Sure. Good heavens! They've already been playing for over twenty minutes. The Yankees scored two runs in the second inning.

Vicky: There are nine innings in a game, aren't there?

George: That's right. Except when the score is tied after completing the ninth inning. Then they play extra innings until the tie is broken.

Vicky: Who's that man getting ready to throw the ball?

George: That's the pitcher.

Vicky: And I suppose the player who will try to hit the ball is the batter-isn't that right?

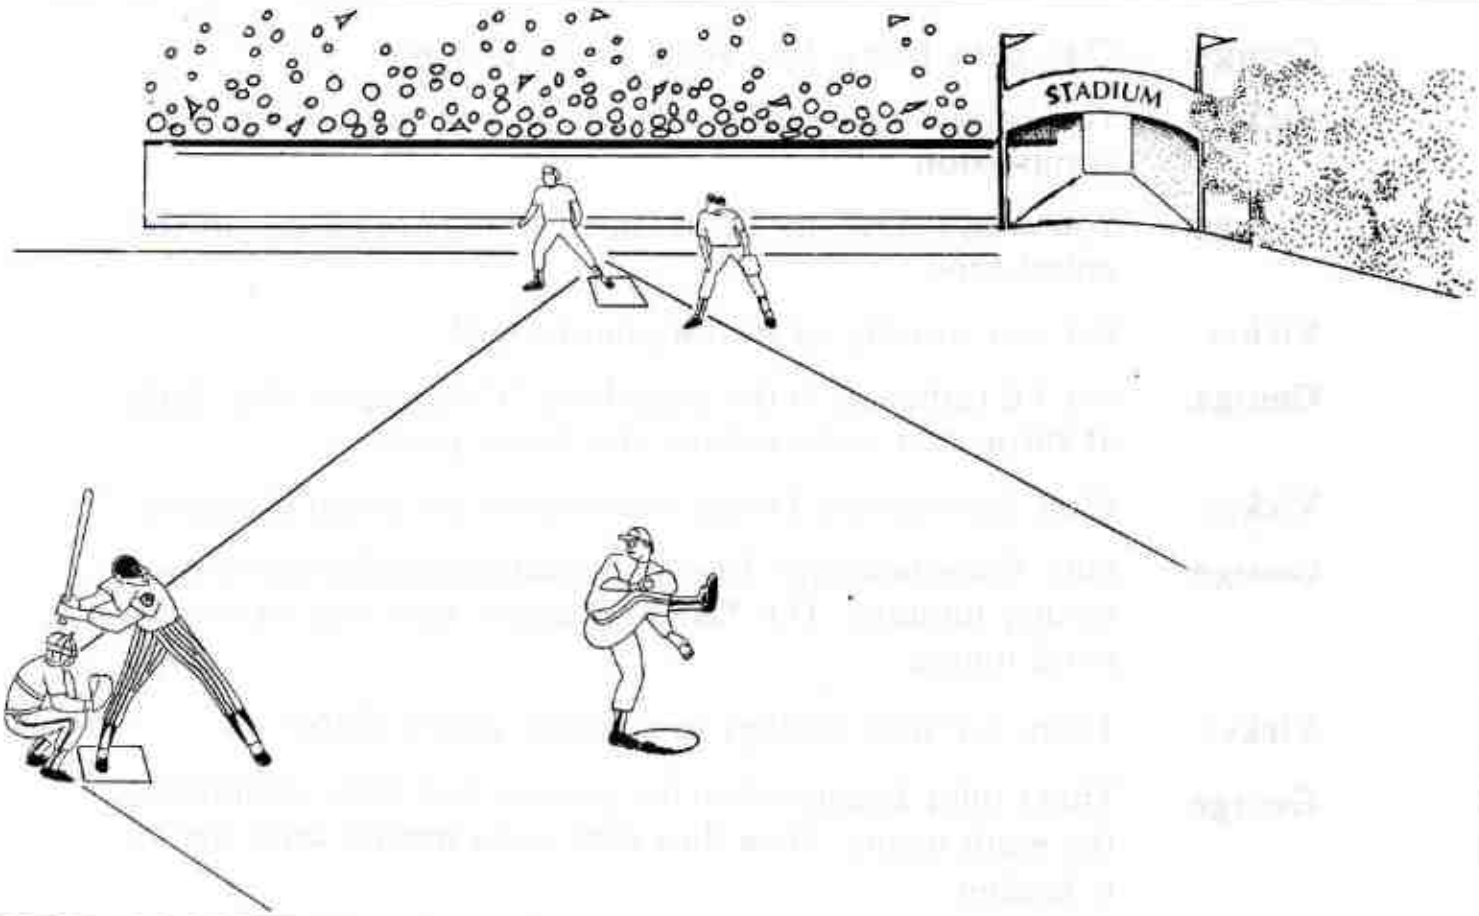

George: Oh, you seem to know much more about baseball than I imagined. Look ... the pitcher has thrown the ball.

Vicky: And the batter has missed it. That man dressed in blue and wearing a mask has just shouted, «strike!»

George: That's the umpire. He decides whether the pitcher has thrown a ball or a strike.

Vicky: He must be an important person.

George: Yes. Though some fans wouldn't agree with you, especially when their decisions go against their favorite team's interest. Well, that's the last out. The Yankees beat the Red Socks two to nothing.

Answer:

1.- Did they get late to the game?

2.- What's the relation between Mr. Bates and the girl?

3.- Where does George prefer to sit? Why?

4.- What happens when the score is tied after finishing the ninth inning?

5.- How is the umpire dressed?

6.- Why do some fans hate the umpire on some occasions?

Complete the Dialogue:

Two friends talk about seats for ball game.

A) Let's _____ to the baseball game tomorrow. Can you _____ the tickets?

B) I'm sure I can. Where do you want to _____? In the grandstand or in the bleachers?

A) I _____ the bleachers.

Give your own answer.

1.- Do you practice any sport?

_____

2.- If yes, which one?

_____

3.- Are women generally as interested in watching sports as men? Why (not)?

_____

4.- Which sport would you like to take up?

_____

5.- In your opinion is it necessary to practice some kind of sport? Why (not)?

_____

6.- In your country, which sports are most popular?

_____

(PART. III) FUNCTION: Complaining

I hate...	Don't you just hate...?
I don't like...	I can't stand..., can you?
I'm tired of...	I'm fed up with...
I don't feel...	I'm disappointed at the way you behave...

Write a dialogue about the following situation

You have been sick lately, you like your job, and the person you are in love with is dating someone else. Write a dialogue in which you talk to your best friend about your problems. You can use the expressions given above or any other one included in the lesson.

Lesson Nineteen 19

(PART. I)

Nineteenth (19th) Lesson.

THE TELEPHONE

Ever since the introduction of the telephone, there have been new problems arising from the carrying of signals or messages. At the beginning, each signal was carried by means of a pair of overhead wires; soon after, telephone exchanges were surrounded by thousands of wires. The cables replaced the wires. Each of them contained many pairs of wires and therefore they were capable of carrying many signals. These cables were laid underground and they replaced the overhead wires.

The more extensive telephone services have become, the more the demand for these services has increased, particularly the demand for long distance services. Long-distance telephone exchanges are usually located in crowded cities, where it is costly and inconvenient to lay new cables for expanding services.

Answer:

1.- Why were wires replaced by cables?

2.- Where were these cables laid? What does that mean?

3.- What kind of telephone service has increased its demand?

4.- Why are long-distance telephone exchanges usually located in crowded cities?

Give your own answers

1.- Are you fond of telephones?

2.- Who do you often phone?

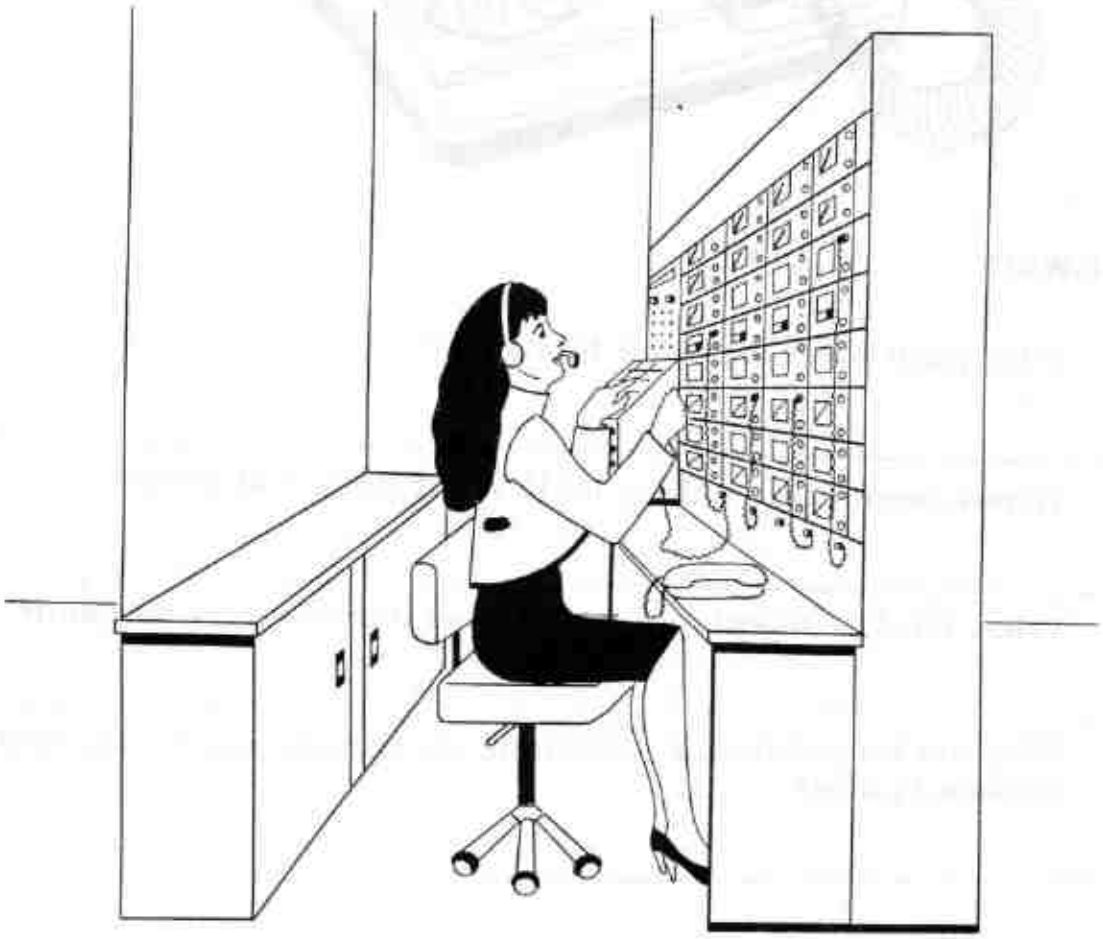

3.- Are your monthly phone bills too high? Why/why not?

4.- Is the telephone service efficient in your country? Explain.

5.- Describe the telephone of the future.

(PART. II)

USING THE TELEPHONE

Study the following dialogues. Practice them with a partner.

1.- A) Do you have a phone, Mr. Jones?

B) No, but my cousin has one. His number is 699-7701.

2.- A) I'd like the number of the Perkins living on Third Street.. (To the operator)

B) There are many Perkins living on that Street. Do you have a first name?

A) I'm afraid I don't.

B) It's impossible to find it without a first name.

3.- A) What's your telephone number?

B) 232-4860 and yours?

4.- A) Long distance? I'd like to make a person-to-person- call to Dan Osmond in Texas.

B) Do you know the number?

A) I'm sorry I don't.

B) You'll have to call information. The area code is 996.

5.- A) Hello, this is Alice. May I speak to Liz?

B) No, I'm sorry. She's out.

A) Would you please tell her I'll call again?

B) Certainly.

A) Thank you.

6.- A) I'd like to speak to Mr. Frank Brown. Is he there?

B) I'm afraid you have the wrong number. What number were you calling?

A) I was calling Beverly Hills 7-2821.

B) This is Beverly Hills, 7-2821. But there is no one by the name of Brown here.

A) I must have made a mistake. I'm sorry to have bothered you.

B) That's quite all right.

7.- Laura Bendix calls the operator.

A) Operator.

B) Hello. This is a collect call, operator.

A) What's your name?

B) Laura Bendix.

A) Can you spell that please?

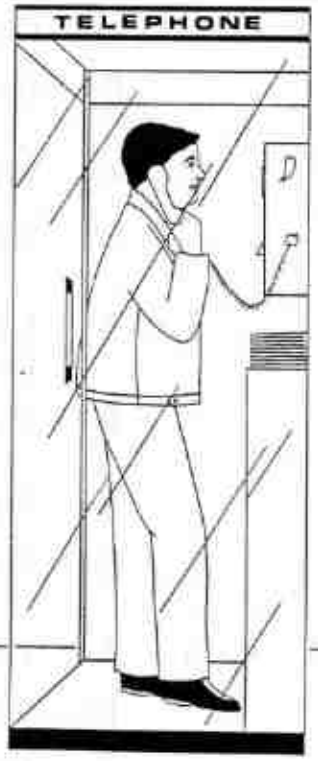

B) B-e-n-d-i-x.

A) Just a moment, please.

B) Thank you.

(PART. III)

FUNCTION:

Instructions. Clarifying information on the phone.

I. Asking for instructions

1.- What do I do to What should I do to How do I —— make a call

2.- What should I
What must I
What do I have to —— do if the line is not engaged?

3.- Is there anything special I should [watch / look] out for?

II Giving instructions

When You Make a Call

First check the code (if any) and number.
Lift the receiver and listen for dialing tone (a continuous purring)
Dial carefully and allow the dial to return freely.
Then wait for another tone:
Ringing tone (burr-burr) the number is being called.
Engaged tone (a repeated single note) try again a few minutes later.
Number unobtainable tone (steady note) replace reciever, re-check the code and number, and then re-dial.
After dialing a trunk call there will be a pause before you hear a tone; during this time the trunk equipment will be connecting your call.
At the end of the call, replace the reciever securely because timing of calls stops when the caller hangs up.

When You Answer the Telephone

Always give your name or telephone number.
If you hear a series of rapid pips, the call is coming from a coinbox telephone. Wait until the pips stop and then give your name or telephone number.

III. Clarifying information on the phone

Could you spell that for me, please?

I can't follow you. Could you speak a little slower?

Could you speak up a little?

Did you say Tuesday, 2 o'clock?

Would you mind speaking a bit more slowly?

Sorry, I can't hear you very well.

Would you mind saying that again?

Would you like to leave a message?

May I take a message?

Excuse me. What was that again?

IV Making Promises

It's a promise.

It's a deal.

I will/ I won't...

I give you my word.

I swear.

I promise to...

I won't let you down.

You have my word on it.

You can count on it.

You can depend on me.

Make a comment in response to each of the following requests.

1.- You must write to your aunt today.

_____

2.- If you don't return the car by 9 p.m. you'll be in trouble.

3.- Are you sure you can arrive on time?

4.- I'm moving to a new apartment next Satuday. I really need your help.

Lesson Twenty 20

(PART. I)

Twentieth (20th) Lesson.

TOURISM IN VENEZUELA

At first glance, Venezuela may seem to offer, like many other Caribbean tourist centers, the same beaches, the same sand, the same clear waters and the same sun.

The difference, however, is that Venezuela also offers an infrastructure that does not exist in the Caribbean islands.

No island in the Caribbean boasts the shopping and business facilities Venezuela has to offer, nor our country's air travel connections with the rest of the world.

Venezuela has a more competitive capacity and potentiality than all the islands of the Caribbean.

Tourists are very happy in spending a few days enjoying the sun and the beach, but then they are also interested in getting to know the continent. This is more than a tour of an island, which is what is beign offered in the Caribbean.

They now set out to discover haciendas and ranches where a whole family is welcome to milk cows, fish in the rivers, get to see many for the first time in their lives-crocodiles and alligators in their natural environment; or they can see horses and other wild animals roam the plains, flamingoes feeding by a river, and finally just listen to the silence of the plains broken by the sound of hundreds of different animals.

The trend now is for tour operators, particularly from Europe, to offer a package of seven days at the beach and seven days in the jungle or plains.

For the above reasons and for many others not mentioned here, we can say that at last Venezuelan tourism business is taking off and no one will ever be able to stop it. Tourism is here to stay.

Decide whether the following statements are TRUE or FALSE.

1.- Venezuela has more to offer than the Caribbean Islands _____.

2.- One breath taking view is the Angel Falls located in Bolivar State _____.

3.- The writer is not very optimistic about the development of tourism in Venezuela _____

4.- Tour operators offer European tourists a 14-day combined plan _____.

Give your own answer.

1.- If you had enough money, where would you like to go?

_____

$126*

Based on price per person double occupancy

FROM April 16, 1990
to December 15, 1990

Bernal's Royale Package
«The Best Kept Secret in the Caribbean»

Paradise really exists... It's in Margarita, a Caribbean island right off he coast of Venezuela. With beautiful mountains and romantic beaches, quaint fisherman villages where you can watch the locals dive for pearls, and where you'll find the Margarita Bernal's Hotel. A luxury resort with 500 rooms with air conditioning and breathtaking ocean view. You'll also enjoy fine dining at our international restaurant, a cocktail, lounge, night life, elegant shops and boutiques, water sports and, above all, the warmth and hospitality of its people.

ANNIE SERVICE OFFERS weekends excursions on yachts, sailboats and aeroplanes to Morrocoy, Los Roques, Gran Sabana, Amazonas and Los Llanos. Loddging, meals and soft drinks included in price.

LOS LLANOS, 3 DAY TOUR. Discover exotic flora and fauna, animals in their natural habitat, exciting excursions, boating, horseback riding, typical meals, AC, hotel.

«BILL FISHING». SPEND A whole day fishing on a 42 ft. or 31 ft. bluemarlin, whitemarlin sailfish tuna, wahoo with a professional crew. English spoken. Everything included.

MERIDA HIKING,CLIMBING, horseback riding, mountain biking. Personalized friendly American service. All equipment furnished.

LA GRAN SABANA, 4 DAY tour. Transportation and lodging in touristic camps, all meals, soft drinks, specialized guides.

AMAZON, 4 DAY TOUR. AIR transportation, AC, hotel, all meals, land and river transportation guides.

Activity:
Based on the above ads, write a travel plan for your next vacation. (Maximum: 100 words).

2.- Which do you prefer, traveling by plane or traveling by ship? Explain your preference.

3.- Do you agree with the writer that tourism is becoming a very good business in Venezuela?

4.- What kind of facilities does Venezuela need badly to attract tourists?

5.- What's the usual attitude towards foreigh tourists in Venezuela?

6.- How can this be improved or changed?

(PART. II)

GOING TO SOUTH AMERICA

Bill Reynolds, an engineer working for a large company, is talking with his colleague Tony Woods about his plans for the next summer vacation.

Bill: Do you have any plans for this summer?

Tony: Yes, I'll take some courses at Michigan State University. How about you?

Bill: Well, you know , I took a couple of special courses there last year. Now I want to take a trip to South America.

Tony: Oh, really? Why don't you go to Venezuela? There's a lot to see in that country.

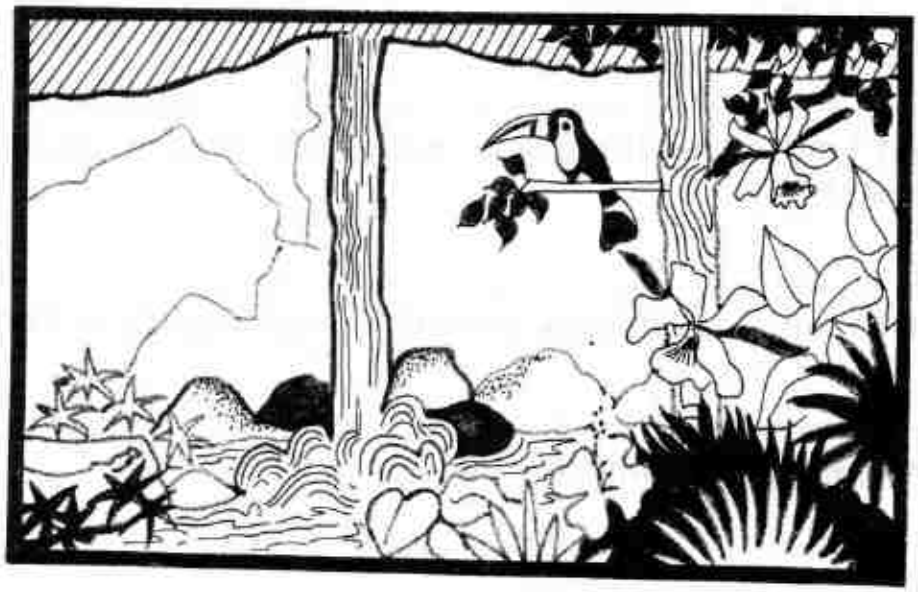

Bill: Have you visited Venezuela?

Tony: Oh, yes. In 1979 the company sent me to Caracas to explore the market for our products. I used my free time to see the beautiful scenery of the country.

Bill: Do you really think that Venezuela would be a good choice for the summer?

Tony: Sure. You will enjoy some of the most beautiful beaches in the world. Or if you are the adventure type you can take a tour to Canaima National Park, where it's possible to join excursions to the impressive Angel Falls, the tallest in the world, and also have a closer look at the gigantic rock formations know as «tepuys».

Bill: OK. that sounds interesting. But are there any areas with cool temperatures?

Tony: Ah, I see what you want. Then you'll have to go to the Andean Merida State where you can take a trip to the snow capped mountains, riding in the longest and highest cable car in the world. And you can visit the typical quaint villages. Oh, it'll be an unforgettable experience, I'm quite sure.

Bill: Well, after hearing about those marvelous things, I've just made up my mind about my summer vacation. It's a real shame you can't go to Venezuela with us, you'd be an excellent guide!

(PART. III)

FUNCTION: Talk About Travel

I'd like to go to South America someday	- You would? I'd like to go to Europe.
Do you like it here?	- Oh, yes. It's a beautiful town.
Does our guide speak English?	- Of course, he does.
Is this the right way to the Post Office?	- Oh, yes. It's just a little further down.
Excuse me, I have a reservation for today.	- Let's see. Yes, you can have you bags taken to Room 82, on the 8th floor.
Can we rent a boat to visit the nearby islands?	- Certainly. There is a daily boat service, but I can't remember the hours.

Write a dialogue about the following situation.

Mary went shopping downtown by herself. When she tried to get back to her hotel, which was not far away, she couldn't find her way. She asked some people for help.

Lesson Twenty-One 21

(PART. I) Twenty-First (21st) Lesson.

BRITISH ENGLISH VS. AMERICAN ENGLISH

When people talk about language we realize that the discussion generally reveals a number of legends, popular beliefs and prejudices which confuse the issue and obscure the facts. Everybody uses language and so everybody feels himself an expert on the subject. In particular most people have an irrational but understandable feeling that what they themselves do is in some way «right» or «good», and that anything different is in some way inferior or unacceptable. As a consequence of these myths and prejudices, many people are worried by the idea that there exists a single kind of English, «good English» and that any spoken or written English should follow its rules.

In Venezuela there is quite a large number of people who equate this notion of «good English» to British English. This leads them to express opinions, such as «British English is better than American English», «British English is more beautiful», «The English are the only people who speak good English», «Americans don't speak English». It is often hard to convince them that though there are some differences between the several varieties of the English language, none of them is intrinsically superior to the others.

Every variety of English, as any other language, has a so called standard form, which is spoken by the educated section of the population that usually belongs to a particular social group.

All languages unavoidably change as time passes and English is no exception. That is why today's English is different from Shakespeare's. And the change continues, inevitably.

In conclusion, we must keep in mind that judgements that British English is «better» or «worse» than American English are prejudices without any basis in the description of language. We must also accept changes that occur in all languages and forget common legends about language which hinder a clear understanding of what language is and how it functions.

Decide whether the following statements are TRUE or FALSE.

1.- Some languages are better than others _____.

2.- Venezuelan Spanish is not as good as European Spanish _____.

3.- The standard form of a language is ordinarily spoken by people who have attended school _____.

4.- The British are not the best speakers of the English language _____.

5.- Languages never change _____.

6.- We must prefer British English becuase it is the best of all varieties of this language _____.

(PART. II)

Carlos Would Like to Get Some Answers From Professor Taylor.

Dialogue:

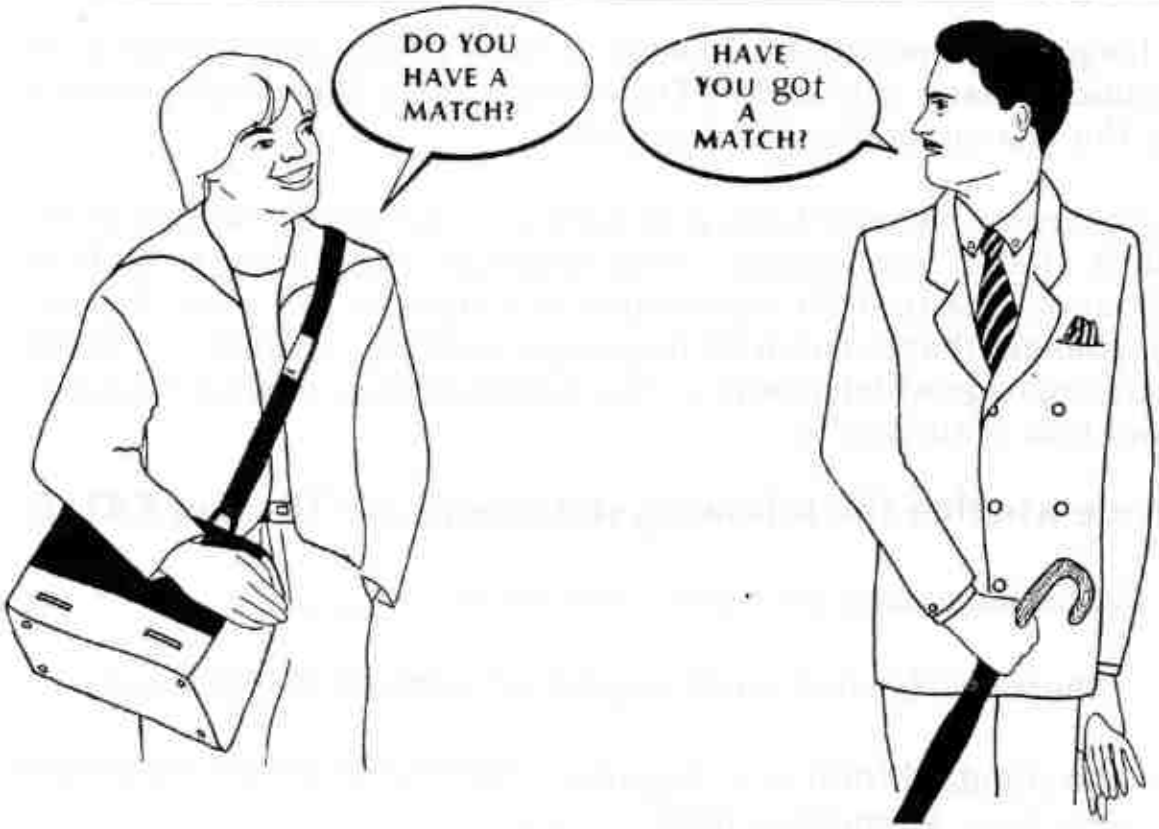

Carlos Fernández, a student taking courses in linguistics and the teaching of English as a foreing language, is talking with Professor Ronald Taylor, visiting lecturer at Caracas Teachers' College.

R.T.: Let's see, Carlos. You said you wanted to see me. Is there something I can do for you?

C.F.: Yes, sir. I'd like to ask you some questions about the differences,if there are any, between British and American English.

R.T.: Well, there are certainly some differences between the two forms of the same language.

C.F.: I've heard people say that British English is better than American English; that the British speak good English; that American English is in some way inferior.

R.T.: Such judgements are based on popular myths. Most people share a number of prejudices about what language is and how it should be taught. In the present case neither is better or worse; they're just a little different.

C.F.: But I've often felt kind of confused. As you know some of our teachers here are British and others are Americans. What kind of English am I supposed to learn or to imitate?

R.T.: If I were you, I'd try to acquire one pronunciation; that is, I'd try to speak as the Americans or as the English, depending on my personal preference or needs. But remember that you should also try to understand other forms of English.

C.F.: Could you please tell me a little more about the differences?

R.T.: To satisfy your curiosity I'll give you a few examples:
In pronuciation: In the U.S.A. the word fork is pronounced /fork/ while in England it is pronounced /fok/

In grammar: In the U.S.A., people say, do you have a match?, while in England this question doesn't take the auxiliary do; and they ask, have you a match?

In vocabulary: In the U.S.A. «we rent a car; whereas in England «we hire a car».
In spelling: In American English we write center, traveled, organize, but the British write centre, travelled, organise.

C.F.: But... isn't that confusing?

R.T.: There's nothing to worry about. In spite of these differences, the Americans and the English understand each other very well. They share a common language and that's a fact.

C.F.: Thank you, Professor Taylor. I've learned a lot from your explanations.

R.T.: You're welcome. Feel free to come any time you need some help.

Answer:

1.- What does Carlos want to know about American English and British English?

2.- Why is he a little confused about the way his teachers speak English?

3.- Faced with the problem of choosing one English pronunciation, what should Carlos take into account to make his decision?

4.- Would you say that the British speak better than the Americans?

(PART. III)

FUNCTION: Talk about languages.

Where did you learn French?	- I studied it in L'Alliance Francaise for three years.
Is John bilingual?	- Yes. he learned Spanish in Venezuela.
Mary is fluent in German.	- I heard she lived in Germany for three years.
Why don't you learn French instead?	- English is more useful than French.
Should we study American English?	- Well, you know there are a lot of American companies established in Venezuela.

Lesson Twenty-Two 22

(PART. I)

Twenty-Second (22nd) Lesson.

HUMOR

What do we mean when we say that most people enjoy the humor in a good joke? Well, one answer to this question could be that «they are capable of laughing or smiling at the funniness of the joke». In this sense humor has always been associated with laughter and amusement.Though wit has often been linked to humor,they are by no means the same. During the 18th century in England, where humor originated, wit was understood as a form of intellectual quickness or mental alertness, which enable a person to produce clever expressions and amusing associations of ideas or words. As such, wit was likely to occur as a part of the speech and manners of upper class people. Humor, on the other hand, was more «earthy», and some even considered it as «low». But, indeed, the prevalent tendency was to vindicate it: if humor was not found in the well-bred it was because they had learned to repress their feelings and adopt their manners to a rigid mold of decorum. Among the members of the lower social classes, where passion and humor flourished, nature appeared in all its charming, unsophisticated diversities.

In the 19th century humor was established as the highest and richest form of the comic. As such the word came to be employed as a general term, as it usually is today, to denote anything comic, or anything that makes us laugh. By obvious extension meaning a «humorist» is now someone consciously skilled in comic artistry. Humor is applied also to the ability to perceive or appreciate the comic.

In 1973 William Davis, director of the British magazine PUNCH, said that «humor is the ability to recognize that which is a sign of pretension, pomposity, absurdity, but it can also be something very cruel: massacres, mutilations, torment and torture have occasionally been considered as the object of humor. Then he added that comic magazines, such as Punch, have always been concerned with politics because humor, if properly used, is a more powerful weapon that anger. Of course, in this case he was referring to the variety of humor known as satire, which need not be funny or amusing, in the sense a joke or a comedy is.

Let's not forget that a little humor (or better a lot) will make our lives happier.

Answer:

1.- What has humor always been associated with?

2.- Where and when did humor originate?

3.- How was wit understood?

4.- What are the differences between wit and humor?

5.- What does the word humor denote nowadays?

6.- What is a «humorist»?

7.- Who is William Davis?

8.- What did he say about comic magazines such as Punch?

Give your own answer.

1. Did you laugh or smile when you read the above cartoons? Why? Why not?

2. What sort of things make you laugh?

3. Do children and adults laugh at the same things? Give examples.

4. Do You think the above cartoons are appropiate for all ages? Explain.

5. In your opinion, who is the best cartoonist in our country?

(PART. II)

THE INTELLIGENT DOG

I'm going to tell you about an extraordinary thing that happened the other day. The day before yesterday, about eight o'clock at night, a young woman approached the box office (a small office where tickets of admission are sold) of the best movie theater in the city. She had with her an enormous dog with a beautifully groomed coat. (the hair or fur of an animal that has been carefully cleaned and brushed). She bought two tickets and went toward the door, followed by her dog. The manager of the theater spoke to her, saying:

Manager: I'm sorry, Miss, but dogs aren't allowed in this theater.

Girl: But I have a ticket for him. .

Manager: I'm very sorry, but animals aren't permitted.

Girl: You don;t understand, This is a special case. My dog is so well trained and so intelligent that he's almost human.

Manager: I see that you have an exceptional animal, but...

Girl: I promise you that if there is any problem we'll leave the theater immediately. I assure you that this dog isn't like any other dog you've ever seen.

Manager: Well, all right. I'll let you go in since the theater is almost empty tonight. Nevertheless, your dog will have to behave himself, or you will have to leave.

Several hours go by, and now the people are leaving the theatre. The manager sees the girl with her dog.

Manager: I congratulate you. You were right; your dog behaved very well. I've been watching him, and it's amazing how quiet he was.

Girl: I told you that he's well trained and very intelligent.

Manager: He certainly is. It even seemed as if he was enjoying the movie

Girl: Oh, he did enjoy it. He liked the film very much. However, he liked the book much better.

Answer:

1.- Why aren't animals allowed in movie theaters?

_____

2.- How many tickets did the woman buy?

_____

3.- Whom were the tickets for?

_____

4.- Why did the manager let the dog go into the theater?

_____

5.- How did the dog behave during the show?

_____

6.- What did the dog like better, the film or the book?

_____

(PART. III) FUNCTION: Apologizing

Apology	Response
- Sorry I didn't mean to bump into you.	That's O.K.
- I'm sorry for ringing the bell three times last night I didn;t know if you were in.	It doesn't matter
- So sorry for not phoning you.	It's all right.
- I'm terribly sorry for phoning you last night. I had to speak to you.	It's quite all right.
- Please forgive me for forgetting your birthday.	Don't let it worry you.

You borrowed an umbrella from your friend and you lost it. Write a dialogue where you apologize your friend. (7 lines)

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

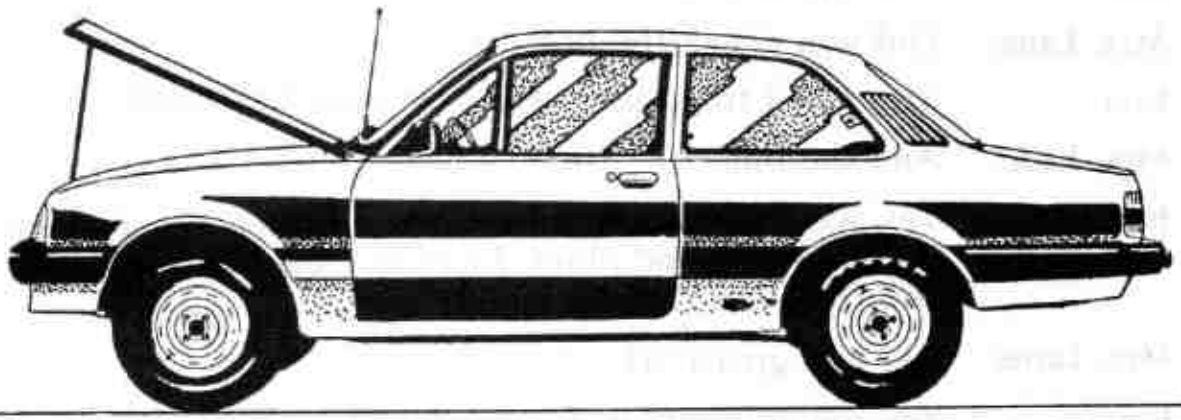

Lesson Twenty-Three 23

(PART. I) Twenty-Third (23rd) Lesson.

THE AUTOMOBILE'S ENGINE

It is a source of power that makes the wheels go around. It is an internal-combustion engine because the gasoline (fuel) is burned inside it. This produces high pressure in the engine combustion chambers, forcing the pistons to move; the movement is carried by connecting rods to the engine crankshaft. The crankshaft is thus made to rotate; the rotary motion is carried through the power train to the wheels so that they rotate and the car moves. The engine requires a fuel system to supply it with a mixture of air and fuel. The fuel system which pumps liquid gasoline from a tank into the carburator, a mixing device that mixes the gasoline with air. The mixture is delivered to the engine where it is burned. The engine also needs a cooling system to take heat away from the engine by circulating a liquid coolant between the engine and the radiator.

The engine includes a lubricating system to supply all moving parts inside the engine with lubricating oil. The engine requires an ignition system which provides high-voltage-electric sparks that ignite the charges of air-fuel mixture in the engine combustion chambers.

Answer:

1.- What does the reading deal with?

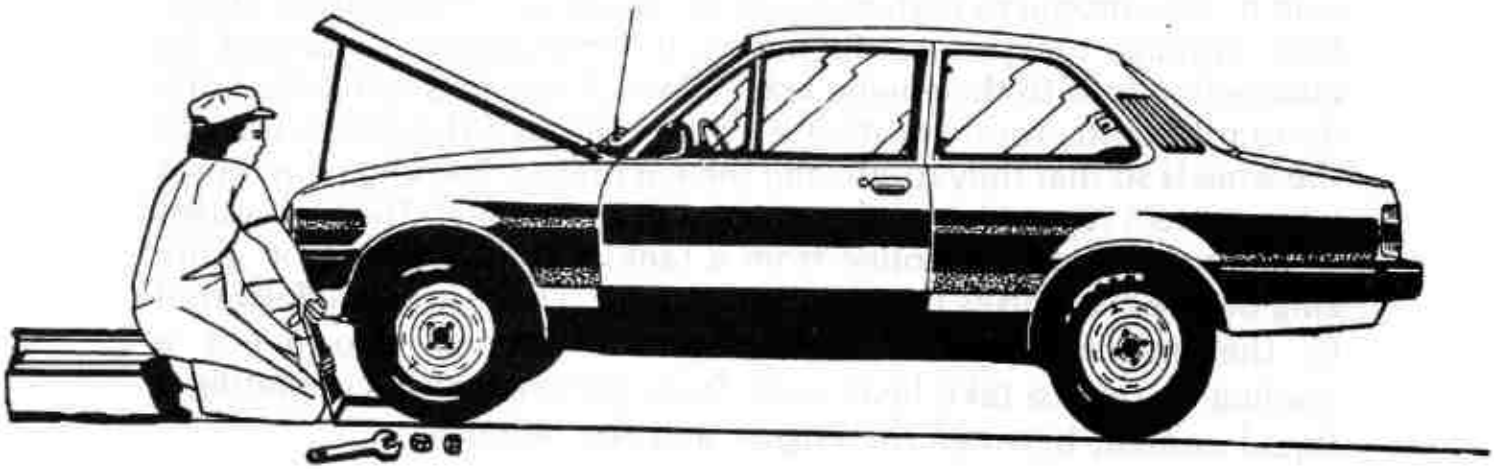

2.- What does the fuel burned inside the engine produce?

3.- What is the carburator?

4.- How does the cooling system of an engine work?

(PART. II)

AT THE MECHANIC'S

Joe: Hello, Mrs. Lane. Your car's ready.

Mrs. Lane: What was the problem, Joe?

Joe: We replaced the alternator and put in a new battery.

Mrs. Lane: Did you check the brakes?

Joe: Yes, I had to adjust the brakes and the clutch.

Mrs. Lane: And the oil?

Joe: Yes, we changed the oil and the oil filter. We also put in new points and plugs. I had to clean the carburator and flush the radiator.

Mrs. Lane: Did you grease it?

Joe: Yes, we greased all the points.

Mrs. Lane: Were the hoses OK?

Joe: Yes, no problem. I had to balance the wheels, they were out of alignment. I rotated the tires, I put the old ones on the back. You need new tires, and a new spare.

Mrs. Lane: How much do radial tires cost?

Joe: You can get good ones for about $ 50 each.

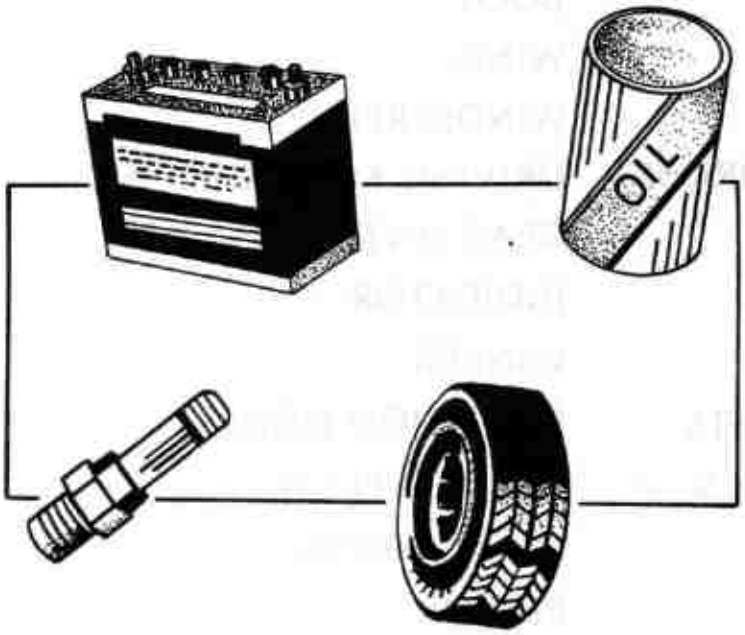

Mrs. Lane: I'll tell Mr. Lane tonight. How much is the bill, Joe?

Joe: The repairs are $160; $ 60 for the spare parts and $100 for labor. And $ 60 for the service. That'll be $ 220 and remember, your battery has a two-year warranty.

Mrs. Lane: Will you take a check?

Joe: It's all right, make it out to Joe's Auto Service.

Mrs. Lane: OK. Here you are. Thanks a lot.

Answer:

1.- Where is Mrs. Lane's car at the moment?

_____

2.- What was wrong with the brakes?

_____

3.- Did they change the oil? What else did they check?

_____

4.- Why did Joe have to balance the wheels?

_____

5.- Which tires did he put on the back of the car?

_____

6.- How much did Joe charge for the job?

_____

Write the Spanish words for the following automobile vocabulary

AMERICAN	BRITISH	SPANISH
HOOD	BONNET
TRUNK	BOOT
FENDER	WING
WINDSHIELD	WINDSCREEN
REARVIEW MIRROR	DRIVING MIRROR
GEARSHIFT	GEAR LEVER
TURN SIGNAL	INDICATOR
BLINKER	WINKER
BACK-UP LIGHTS	REVERSION LIGHTS
LICENSE PLATES	NUMBER PLATE
SPARE TIRE	SPARE WHEEL
GAS	PETROL
TRUCK	LORRY
TRIP	JOURNEY
TRAFFIC CIRCLE	ROUNDABOUT
DETOUR	DEVIATION
PARKING LOT	CAR PARK
SIDE WALK	PAVEMENT
UNDERPASS	SUBWAY
INTERSECTION	CROSSING
GO FOR A RIDE	HAVE A RIDE
PICK-UP SOMEONE	COLLECT SOMEBODY
GO AHEAD	CARRY ON
FLAT TIRE	PUNTURE

Here you have some situations concerning invitations or arrangements. What you would say in each case? (Consult the lists of functions below).

1.- Your cousin has asked you to stay for the weekend. Accept.

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

2.- A friend has asked you if you could arrange a party for some visitor he has. You cannot.

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

(PART. III)

FUNCTION: Arrangements. Invitations.

1.- Marking Arrangements:

I was wondering { if / whether } Monday would be { convenient / possible } for you

We could meet on Monday

Would it be { possible / convenient } for Tom to work on Saturday?

2.- Extending Invitations:

- Would you like to go to dancing tonight?

- Would you be interested in playing tennis this afternoon?

3.- Responding to Arrragements and Invitations:

No, I am afraid
- I will not be able to...
- I cannot manage to...
- Moday will not be convenient
- It will not be possible for Tom to...

Yes,
- I would be delighted to...
- I would love to...
- It will be possible for him to...

Lesson Twenty-Four 24

(PART. I) Twenty-Fourth (24th) Lesson.

THE FEDERAL BUREAU OF PRINTING AND ENGRAVING

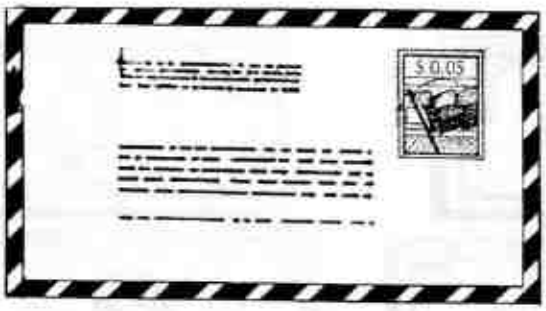

The United States Bureau of Printing and Engraving is responsible for the design, engraving and printing of paper money, government bonds and postage stamps.

The U.S. paper currency is printed on high-speed presses. Every hour, nine thousand sheets (thirty-two notes per sheet) run through the press. The back of the notes is printed with green ink one day, and the face with white ink the next day. There are several safeguards against counterfeiting. The paper and ink formula are kept secret and are very hard to imitate. Engravers cut designs into metal plates. A slight change in a line or space is easily spotted on the face of the bill.

The sheets are streaked in blocks when they come off the press. They move on to a checker who examines the note for defects. Finally, the sheets are fed into a machine which adds the treasury seal and serial numbers to the notes and then cuts them apart.

The government presses work twenty-four hours a day, five days a week. The currency goes into the United States Treasury to pay the government's bill.Cash is also put into twelve Federal Reserve Banks, which distribute money to banks across the country.

STAMPS

Answer:

1.- What office of the United States Government makes paper money?

2.- What else is printed in that office?

3.- How is money distributed across the United States?

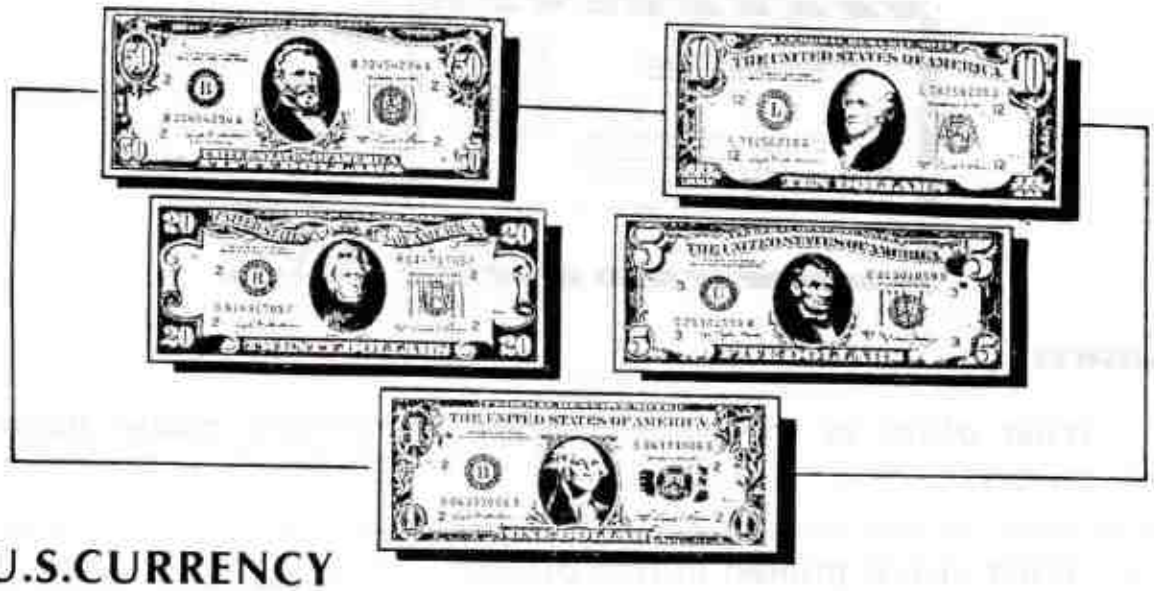

4.- How many days does it take to print a bill?

5.- How much time do the government presses work a week?

Match game. The phrases in the left column are definitions of the words in the right column. On each line write the word defined by the phrase.

1. Coins, bills, etc. generally used as money.
2. A piece of paper money.
3. Government office or department.
4. Cutting letters or design into metal or wood for printing.
5. Protections.
6. The making of false money.
7. Machine made to stamp something.
8. Piece of metal on which something is engraved.

a. Bureau.
b. Safeguards.
c. Engraving.
d. Note.
e. Currency.
f. Counterfeiting.
g. Metal plates.
h. Press.

U.S.CURRENCY

Coins:

Cent	1c
Nickel	5c
Dime	10c
Quarter	25c
Half-dollar	50c
Dollar	$ 1.00

Bills:

One dollar $ 1.00
Five dollars $ 5.00
Ten dollars $ 10.00
Twenty dollars $ 20.00
Fifty dollars $ 50.00
One hundred dollars $ 100.00

BRITISH CURRENCY

Coins:		Notes
half a penny	1/2 p	One pound	1
one penny	1 p	five pound	5
two pence	2 p	ten pound	0
shilling	5 p	20 pound	20
ten pence	10 p	50 pound	50
50 pence	50 p	100 pound	100

(PART. II)

OPENING A CHECKING ACCOUNT

Customer: Excuse me, Sir. I'd like to open a checking account, please.

Teller: Certainly, er... What type of account do you want to open?

Customer: What do you offer?

Teller: We have special accounts and regular accounts.

Customer: Is there a charge if your account is overdrawn?

Teller: Yes, there is. It´s $25.00 for each draft.

Customer: All right. I'd like to open a regular checking account.

Teller: Fine. Do you want the account to be in your name only?

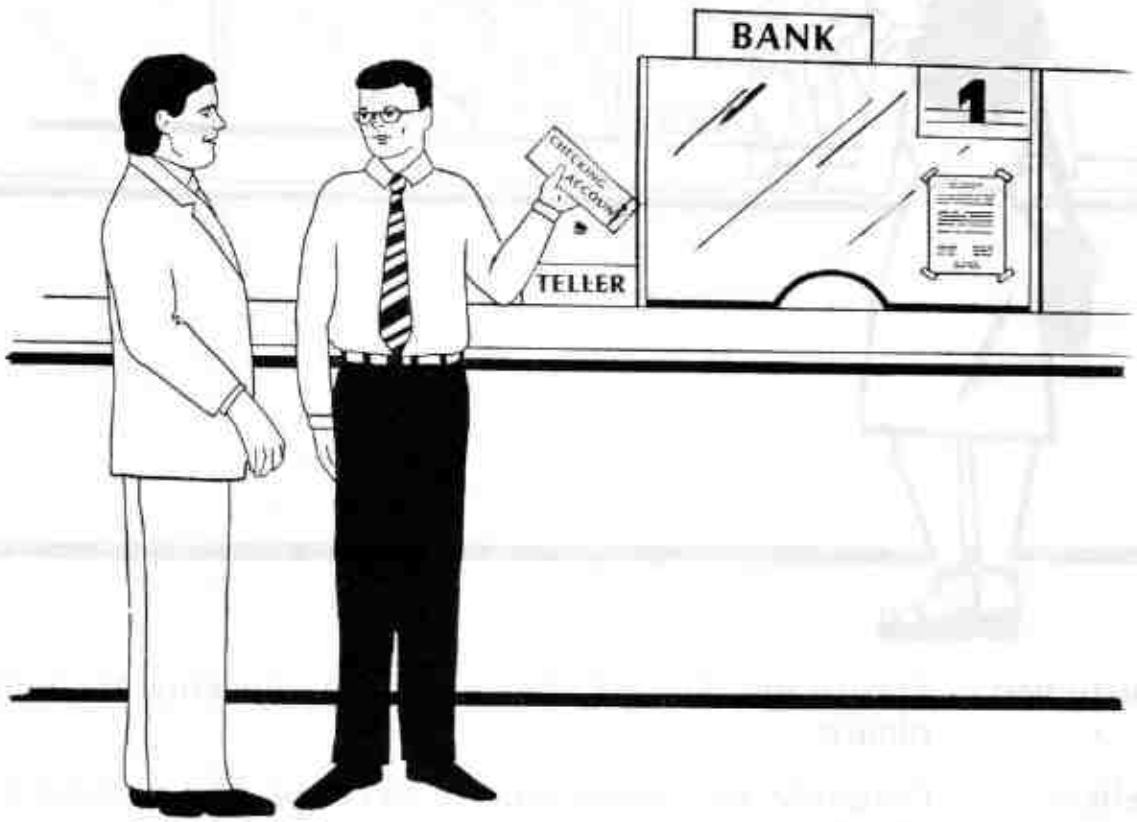

Customer: No, I want a joint account for me and my husband. By the way, when can I have my personalized checks?

Teller: It takes two weeks to process, but I can give you some checks for you to use now. How much do you want to deposit today, Ma´am?

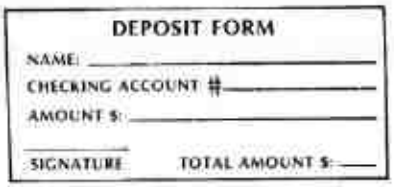

Customer: $ 300.00

Teller: Fine. Please, fill out this form with your name, address and telephone number. Here you have a deposit slip. After you deposit you'll recieve a receipt.

Customer: Thank you.

(PART. III)

FUNCTION:
Expressing want, desire and preference.

Formal	Informal
I want...	I feel like...
I would like..	Give me...
I prefer...	I'll have...
I'd rather...	I'd like...

Situation: you want to open a savings account for your daughter. You want to deposit $ 50.00. Write out the conversation with the bank teller.

Teller: Good morning, Madam. May I help you?
You: Yes, I want to open a savings account.
Teller: _____
You _____
Teller: _____
You: _____
Teller: _____
You: _____
Teller: _____
You: _____
Teller: _____
You: _____

Match Game:

The phrases in the right column are definitions of the phrases in the left column. On each line write the letter identifying the corresponding definition.

1. Minimun balance
2. Service charge
3. Interest.
4. Regular checking account
5. Personalized checks
6. Joint account.

a. Checks with your name on them
b. An account held in the names of two or more persons.
c. A fee collected by a bank for its checking account services.
d. The amount of money you always keep in your account.
e. Money paid for the use of money.
f. Requires a minimun balance of $ 200.

Lesson Twenty-Five 25

(PART. I) Twenty Fifth (25th) Lesson.

MARKETING

The term marketing refers to the performance of business activities that direct the flow of goods and services from producers to consumers or users.

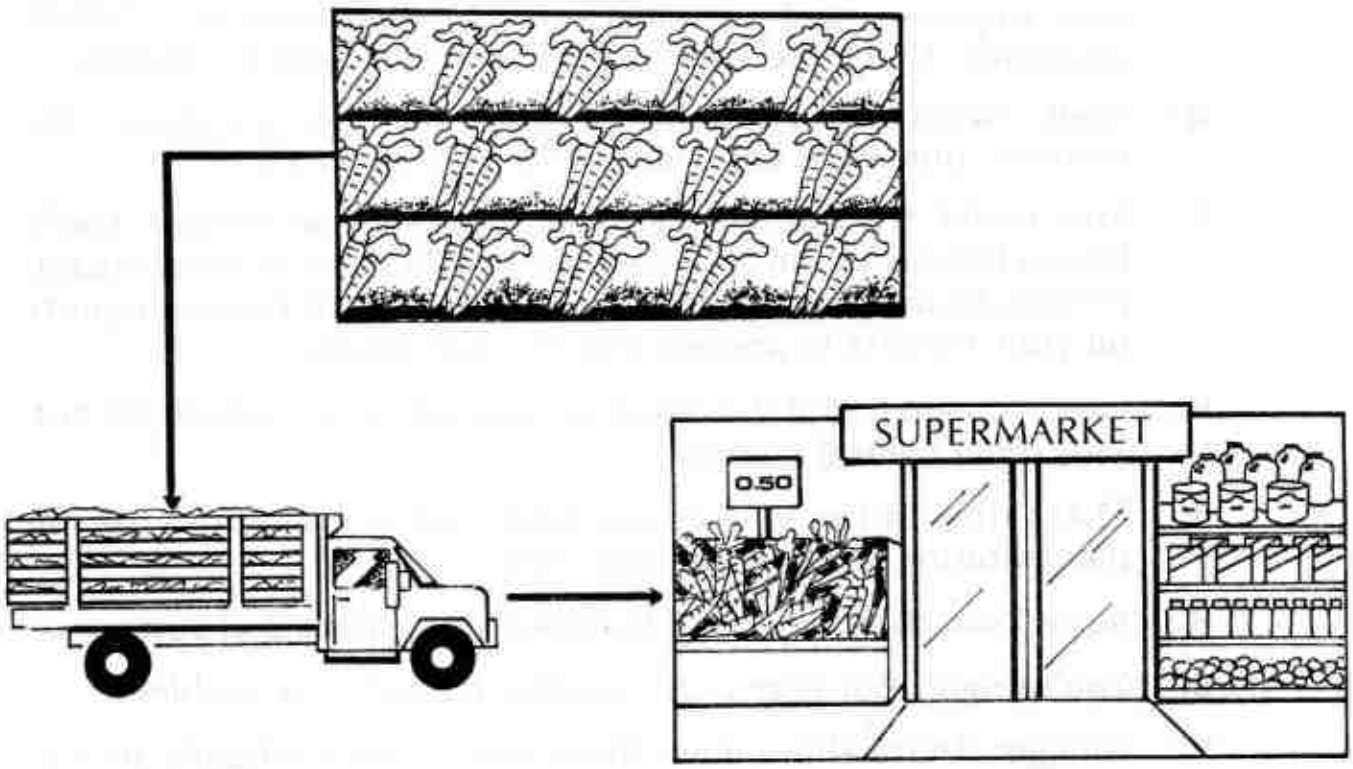

Marketing came into existence when production was first under taken for exchange instead of exclusively for personal use; when human groups took the first steps towards civilization.

The scope and the social and economic importance of marketing expanded with every forward step in productive or distributive technology,in social and economic organization, in cultured achievement. Every advance in the techniques of agriculture of extractive industry, and of manufacture, resulted in the creation of additional goods to be distributed through the agencies of marketing. Initially, the producers of such surpluses exchanged them directly with the consumers. Quite early in every civilization, however, marketing middlemen (individuals, who bought the surpluses from the producers, possibly stored them, and eventually resold them to consumers or to other middlemen) came into existence. Every subsequent improvement in marketing techniques such as transportation, storage, the arts of promoting and selling, and the institutions of wholesaling and retailing, led to wider distribution of goods. As society became better organized with greater domestic security, more stable currencies, and credit systems, marketing possibilities broadened.

In primitive societies the economic importance of production far outweighed that of marketing. With rising civilization, the scope of production expanded, but that of marketing expanded still more rapidly.

The study of Marketing consists of the analysis of business activities connected with the movement of goods and services from producers to consumers or users, plus the analysis of consumer circumstances and attitudes that determine the character of the major part of marketing activities, the business organizations that perform these activities and certain aspects of manufacturing, agriculture, extractive industry, service enterprises and goverment that affect marketing activities.
These activities, organizations and other elements are constantly changing, the study of marketing is a very dynamic field in modern economics.

Answer:

1.- When did marketing appear?

_____

2.- What is «the middleman»?

_____

3.- What happened as a result of the improvement in marketing techniques?

_____

4.- What was more important in primitive societies?

_____

(PART. II)

LOOKING FOR NEW MARKETS

Mr. Harold Hayes, an American businessman, is talking with Mr. Richard Bates, an international business consultant, about the problems involved in expanding the market area for his products.

H: Do you think my sales promotion can cross international borders?

B: Yes. But the promotion should be coordinated in one place. Then your shipments will be made to meet target dates in different countries. That's the idea in the control of sales promotion.

H: Well... What I have in mind is, rather than just penetrate new markets, dominate the whole field. Is that possible?

B: You could try. But let's get back to promotion control. You'll have a line operation at headquarters with separate sales organizations to work on the local level. Then you'll receive reports on your success in announcing the new product.

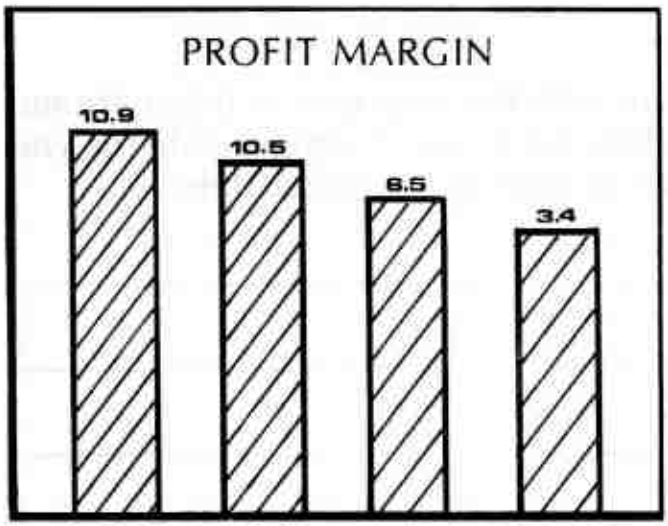

H: One problem is that the operation should be decentralized, but with some central control.

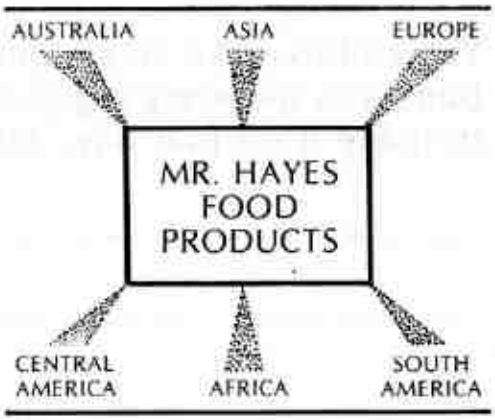

B: That's true. But as long as you have a good basic plan, the implementation will be relatively easy.

H: Some local companies tend to have a strong feeling of autonomy.

B: You're right. But that's just another one of your problems.

H: All right. That's all for now. Thank you for your valuable advice.

Decide whether the following statements are TRUE or FALSE

1. It's impossible to promote sales abroad _____.
2. Promotion control should never be centralized _____.
3. Mr. Bates' job is to advise businessmen on international trade operations _____.
4. If Mr. Hayes has a good basic plan, the operation will be successful _____.
5. The strong feeling of autonomy of some local companies is an advantage and should be encouraged _____.

(PART. III)

FUNCTION: Marketing appointments

I'd like to make an appointment with the manager of the bank.	- Would tomorrow afternoon be convenient?
I have an appointment with Dr. Williams	- I'm very sorry. He's not here at the moment. He had to go out of town for an emergency.
Could I make another appointment?	- Of course. How about next Thursday at 11:30 a.m.?
Well, could you make it a little sooner? It's rather urgent..	- O.K. Let's see. Wednesday at 2: 30?

Write a dialogue

You call to make an appointment with the manager of International Bank. His secretary suggests a date for it, but it's impossible for you to make it on that day. Ask her to give you another date.